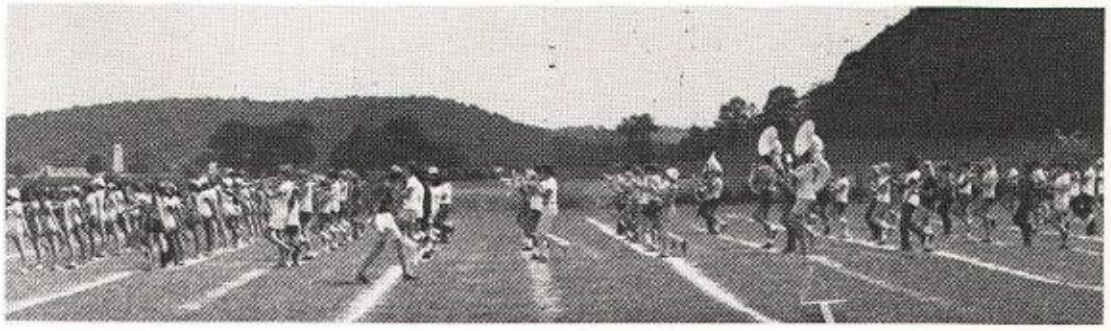
PRESENTING:
THE WALNUT HILLS MARCHING BAND AND DRILL TEAM

The Grueling Days Of Band Camp . . .



For the Marching Eagles, 1975 was a busy year. In addition to marching in the Walnut Hills football games, they journeyed to Columbus to represent the Cincinnati area in the All-Ohio Shrine Bowl Game. The band, under the direction of Daniel Rumer and Kenneth Welsh, and the drill team, under Thomas Gentil, captured first place in the University of Cincinnati Homecoming Parade and marched admirably in several local contests and the Holiday Parade. Bev Britton and Abbe Ganson were feature twirlers, Nils Kahlson was drum major, and Beth Ayer was captain of the Highflyers.

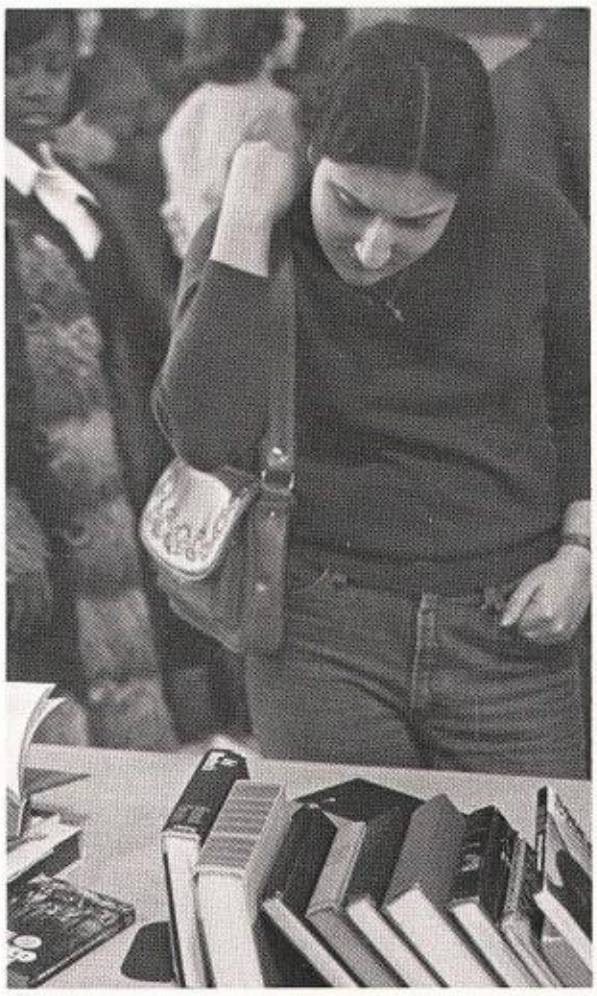
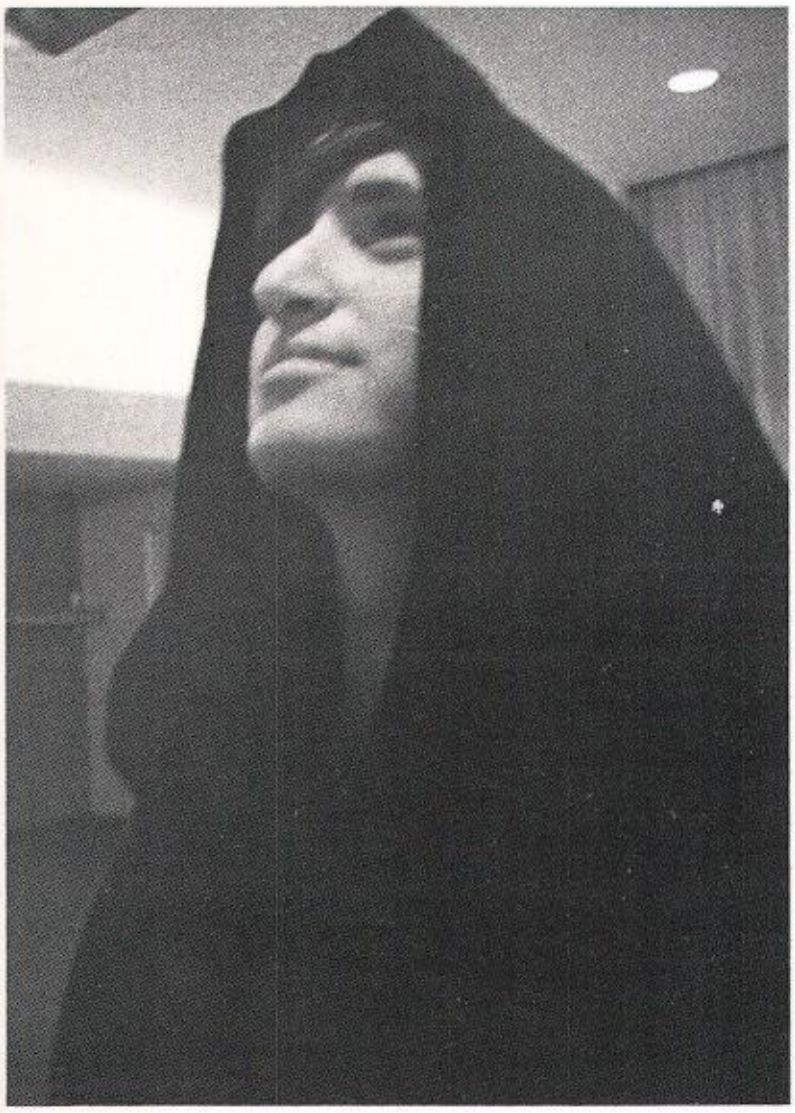
BI-★★★ CENTENNIAL FESTIVAL

SATURDAY MARCH 6, -1976-



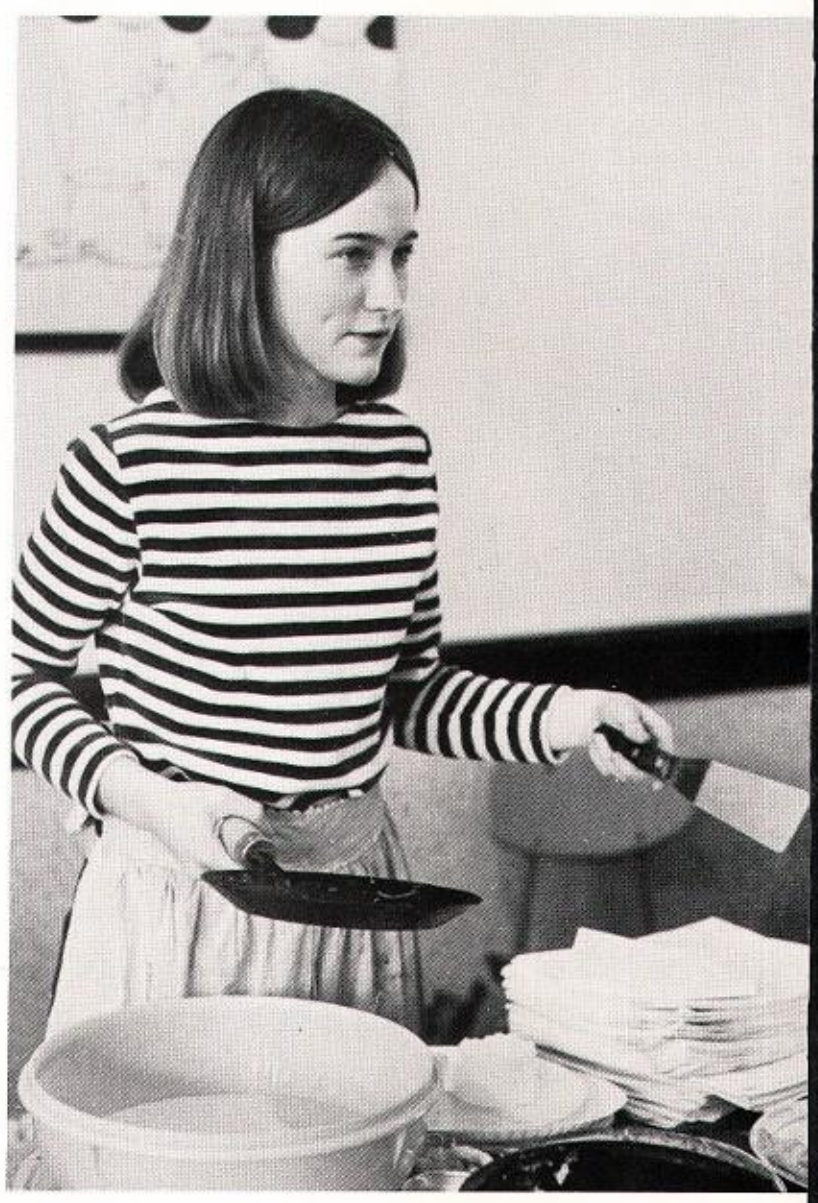
The kick-off for Walnut Hill's Bicentennial Festival was a book sale held over a two day period in February. Students browsed among long tables filled with books having such diverse (an somewhat obscure) titles as WILL YOU B ALIVE IN 1975? or ICHTHYOLOGY MADE EASY. The proceeds from this successful project (in excess of seven hundred dollars) are to be used to benefit a community service in the name of Walnut Hills.

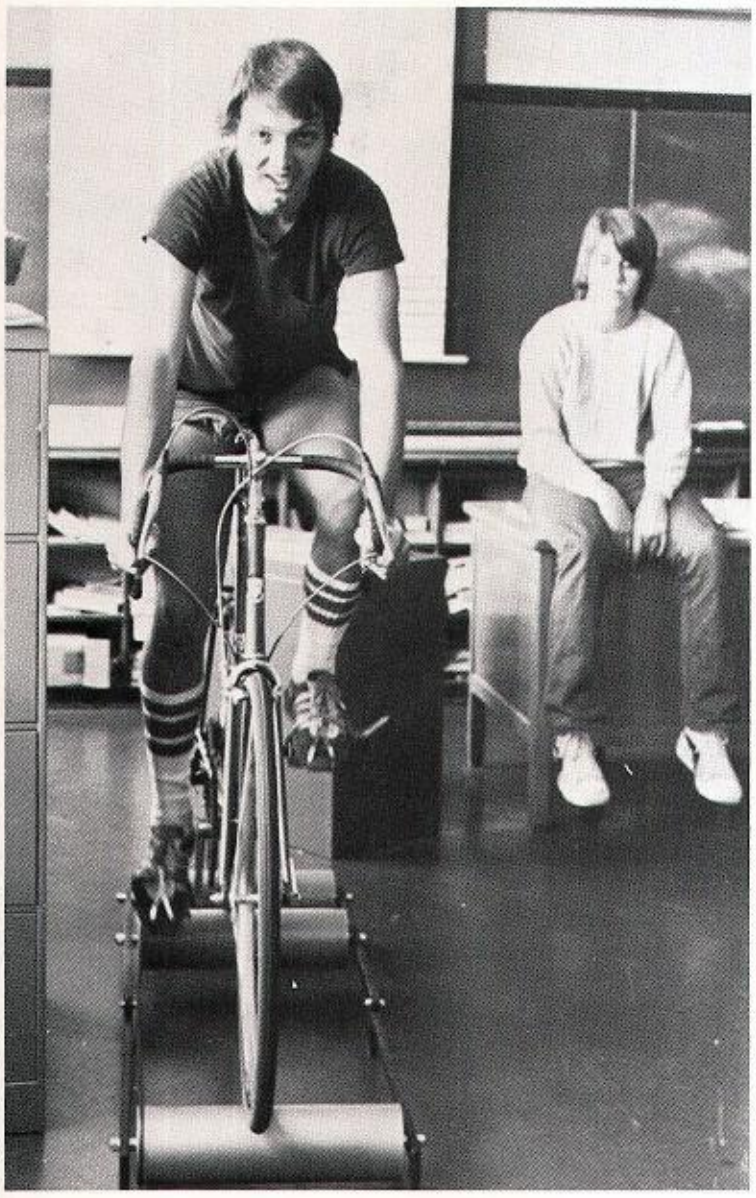
BI-CENTEN-NIAL BOOK SALE



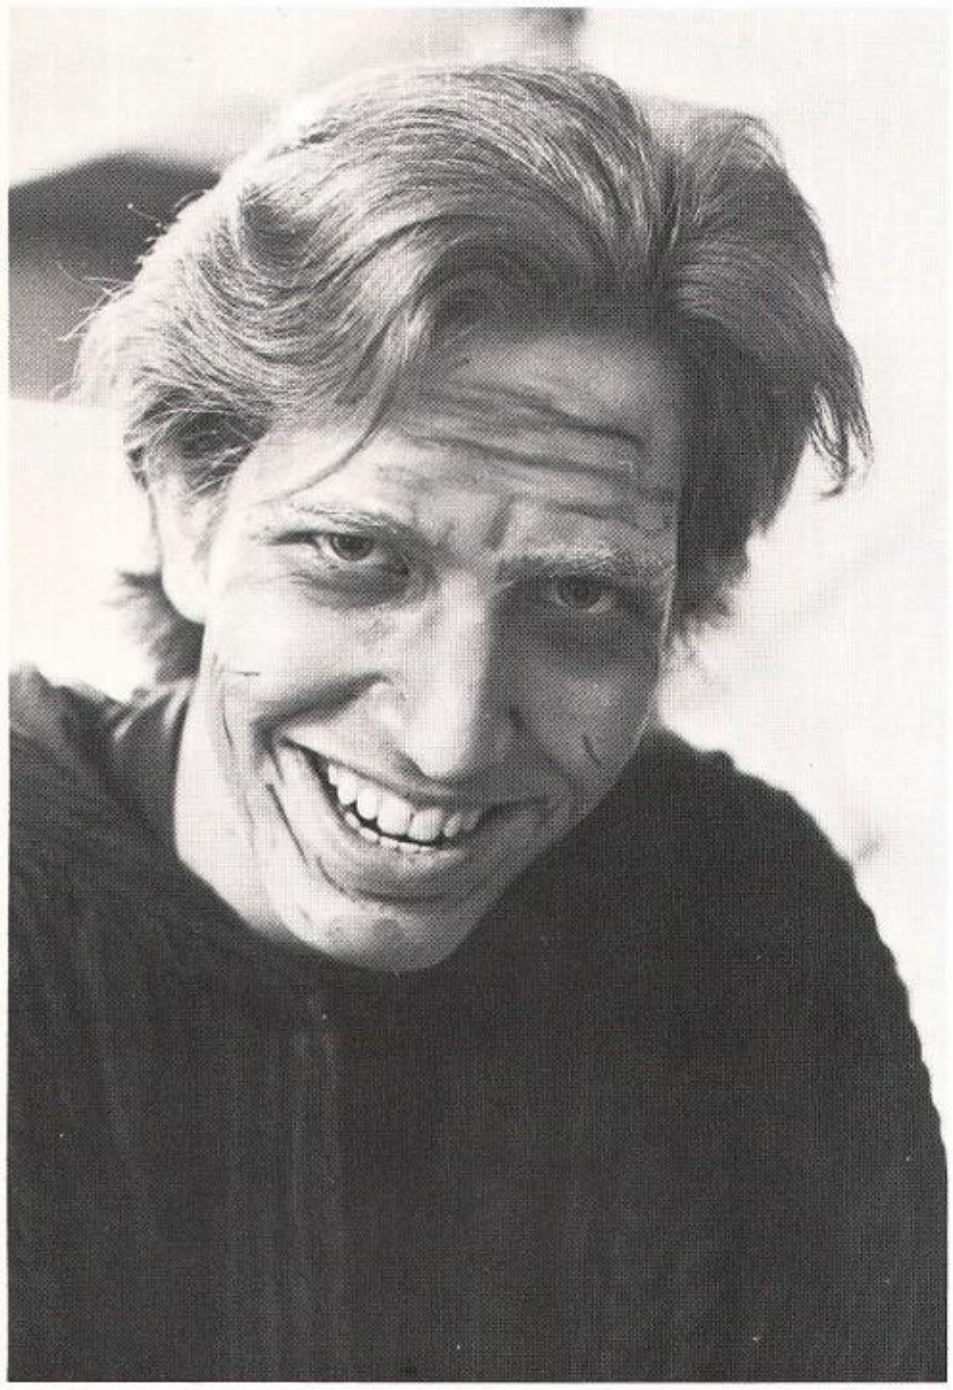
Local personalities acted as judges of the various exhibits. A left is Gerald Springer tasting one of the approximately thir entries in the popular apple pie baking contest.

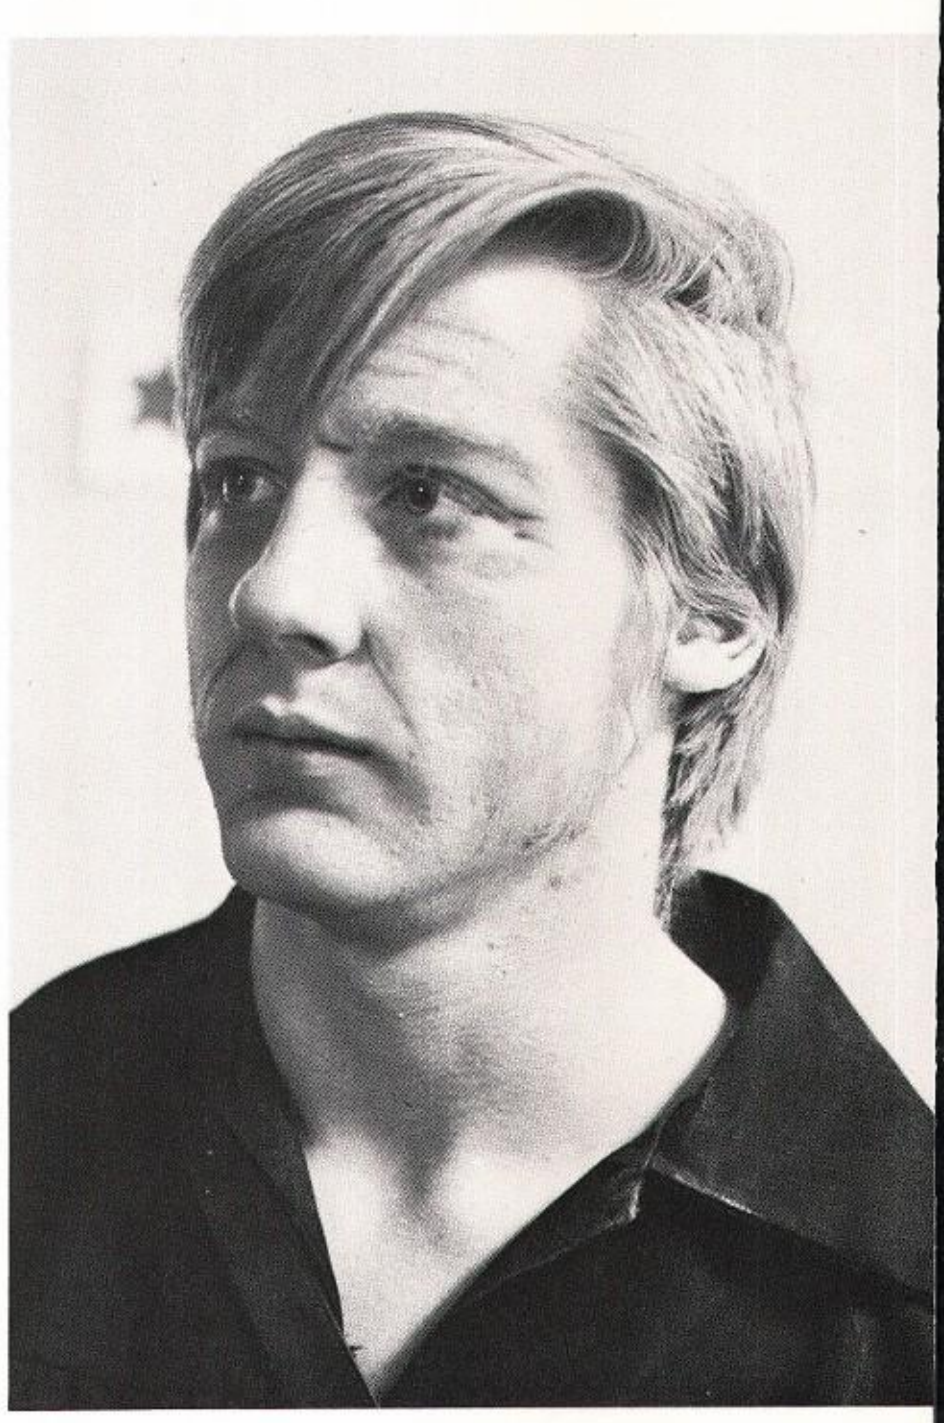
The lunchroom was the scene of much of the day's activity. Some members of the French, German, and Spanish Clubs prepared and served native cuisine while others performed their respective international dances.





Many school organizations had activities and exhibits in rooms throughout the building. In one room, crafts were sold which had been made by students.





Among the numerous presentations were two performances of the SCARLET LETTER, folk and square dancing and several art exhibits.

One of the more popular events was the scrimmage between the "It's Academic" team and a team of parents. In its come-from-behind tradition, the student team subdued the parents in three consecutive matches.

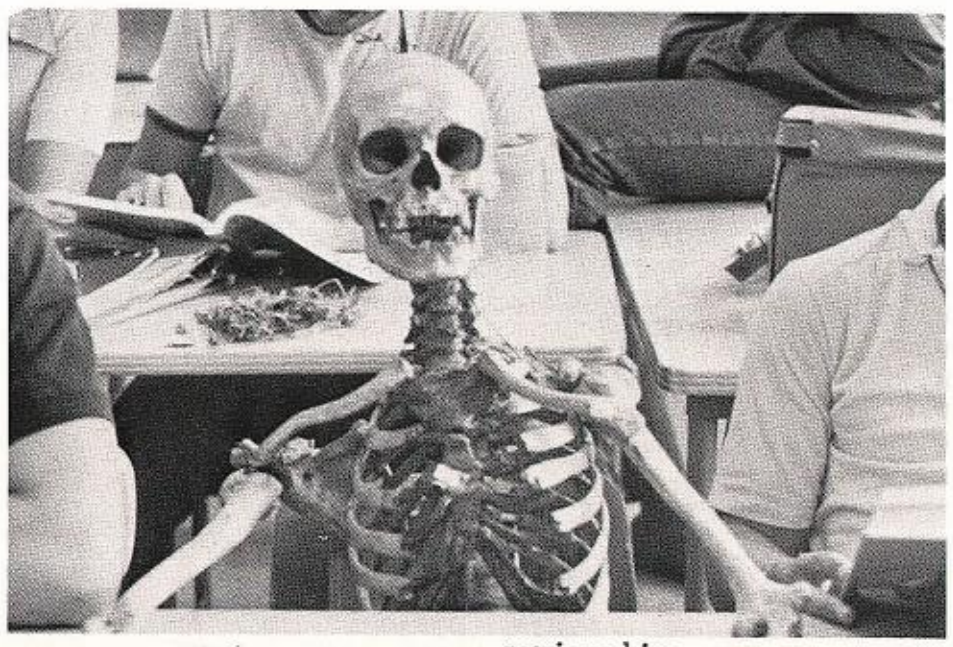
Jefferson Hits Walnut



You may not have noticed, but yesterday Walnut Hills was honored by the presence of visiting dignitary, Thomas Jefferson. Jefferson returned to Walnut Hills after a 200 year absence, during which time he served as ambassador to "The Great Beyond", which Scatterbrain researchers found to be a principality of Russia, northwest of Siberia.

The stylishly clad former diplomat, who remains slim and trim despite his age of 223, arrived at nine thirty sharp yesterday morning with a special police escort (Patrolman Goodin was espefor a "bit of tobacco." He commented on "that curious retrieve him.

During this time, Scatter-brain was able to question him

Athletic Financial Reassessment Due

In accordance with rejuvenated academic interests, the Walnut Hills Athletic Department will announce, in a brief press conference today, its intentions to reappropriate funds to sports teams.

Whereas presently the football squads command nearly half of all athletic spenditures, the new system provides for these moneys to be spent on a newly instituted competition bridge team. In addition, Stamp and Coin Club will achieve varsity status and will consume nearly 15¢ out of each sports dollar.

Of course traditional favorites, such as Art Team and Chess Team will receive no cuts in budget, but less successful basketball, football, soccer, and baseball programs will see vast reductions.

The change, S-Brain was told, was precipitated due to a battle, restoring things to their proper balance."

A high ranking official commented, "We need a fresh spirit in this school, and we hope that this decision to reshuffle spending procedures will catalyse positive development on the part of the intellectually slumping student body."

New Courses At WH

Walnut Hills will be adding two new College-Preparatory courses for the 76-77 school year. They are Health AP and Styles and Techniques of Cheating AP. Both courses will prepare the student for maximum survival in college.

Health AP, a two semester course worth 7-3/8 credits, will consist of an intensified "rap session" about health, a was to meet Mr. Brokamp, of whom Jefferson later said, "If he jabs me with that stupid button one more time, I'll have him arrested for assault!" Next, Mr. Jefferson attended classes with his Scatterbrain guide, who told us that he found them intellectually stimulating and highly imaginative. He told us that Mr. Jefferson likes them too.

Suddenly it was one fifteen, and Mr. Jefferson was awakened for lunch, which was to be eaten in the cafeteria. After being escorted kicking and screaming down to the lunchroom Jefferson repasted from the tasty smorgasbord of institutional fare. In praising the staff's efforts he said, ". . . fit for dogs . . . much . . . students . . . McDonalds . . . Maisonette," a flattering comparison to the Maisonette, of course."

Afterwards, in a somewhat futile attempt to digest his hearty meal, Mr. Jefferson stepped out to the front steps vice-principal spotted him puffing on his pipe, he decided not to stay. He was escorted, once again with considerable pedestrial agitation and oral remonstrance to the office, where he waited for Patrolman Goodin to as, "What?", and "Bug ye off, you insolent pup."

All in all, it was a busy day. When we asked the departing Jefferson about his visit, he humorously cracked. "It was some stunt." What a kidder!

As Immanuel Kant, professor in the Philosophy Department and major proponent of this legislation, explained, "It became a question of who was to conquer; the bodies or the minds. I am delighted to report that the minds won this individual's physical well being and the socially complex world in which he exists.

It will also cover specific topics such as the psychological effects on students from eating in the school lunchroom and philosophizing with the librarians. Prerequisites will be Health I and II.

Styles and Techniques of Cheating AP, a quarter course worth 2 credits, will feature an in-depth study of the evolution of cheating, complete with physical proficiency in mobilization of arms, hands, legs, feet, eyes, and mouth. Experts on cheating will be welcome to the class to demonstrate any new and successful ideas. Prerequisites will be Study Skills and Teacher Approval.

Student Senate Dissolved

Student Senate was reportedly dissolved into nothingness Friday on account of fatal acid leakage from the chemistry room above. The accident occurred during another one of Senate's many heated debates over pressing constitutional issues.

Apparently a group of enterprising junior high chemists were involved in intense laboratory work when a five gallon tub of hydrochloric acid burned through the classroom floor and through the ceiling of the room below.

We were experimenting with the solutions on hand," one of the chemists told us, "when we noticed that the acid level was rapidly decreasing. By that time it was already too late to evacuate the room below. We heard the screams and we knew it was too late."

They speculated that the acid, of an approximated concentration of pH.5, immediately engulfed the congressional assembly causing rapid disintegration among the hysterical participants.

In total, the classroom itself sustained minimal damage, but the loss in terms of human life was feared at under a dollar. After receiving commendations for their fine work, the chemists agreed to pay for any harm that they had caused.

Editor's Note: In our earnest attempts to continue to be an honest barometer of student opinion on the important issues facing our school each day, we the Scatterbain editors feel that it is our sacred duty to provide forum for the uncut and uncensored replies to pertinent questions. We will not invite controversy, but we will not avoid it. Therefore, address yourself to the following questions.

1) What do you, as a student, think of those tiny holes in the ceiling?
2) It is your education that is at stake. Do you like the colors of the new building?
3) What do you think of chihuahuas?
4) Do you think Drill Team is sexy?

Krammit's Kandids:

Another In A Series Of Hard Hitting Editorials

Today's editorial is on the controversial subject of the existence of a smoking lounge at Walnut Hills. However, in order to please both factions of this heatedly debated issue, I will present both sides of the argument.

Firstly, meaningful student-faculty relationships can spring from the simple sharing experience of a cigarette. Imagine the fun of watching a teacher try to bum a cigarette from a student! Additionally, the lounge should not be limited to only seniors. We are all over eleven, and my Uncle Norton has been smoking since he was ten.

Once Uncle Norton spilled a vat of steaming hot applebutter right in Aunt Bessie's lap. Boy, did she holler! That was the same day Cousin Wilbur got licked in the outhouse. Boy, did he holler! Uncle Norton was a good soul, and he was smoking since the age of ten. And no one can say he died of cancer, especially the driver of the truck that hit him. And Uncle Norton has been smoking since the age of ten! Finally, instead of having smokers scattered all over the school area, by centralizing them in one smoking lounge, these foolish lawbreakers can be apprehended and brought to justice much more readily.

Now, for the opposing view. There are many valid arguments, two of which represent the most important underlying reasons. First, and foremost is the problem of "funny cigarettes" being introduced into the smoking lounge. This refers to gag items such as squirting cigars, exploding cigarettes, etc.

Second, bathroom attendance would come to a screeching halt if a legalized smoking lounge were to be provided.

Therefore, one can see that this heatedly debated issue is truly a controversy.

From The Desk Of The Athletics Director

As Athletic Director at Walnut Hills, it is my responsibility to oversee the entire athletic program here. Our program is one of the largest in the state, fielding some twenty-six different teams.

It is my desire for Walnut Hills to have the best athletic program and to offer the student athlete the best possible opportunity to participate in athletics.

There once was a great man who stated "I have a dream." Well, I have a dream: Walnut Hills Athletics is second to none."

Joseph J Bell
Athletic Director

The assistant Athletic Director's job at Walnut Hills has primarily been established to increase the interest and participation in girls interscholastics. My duties are designed to aid coaches in various areas, hoping to improve the efficiency of our athletic program as a working unit.

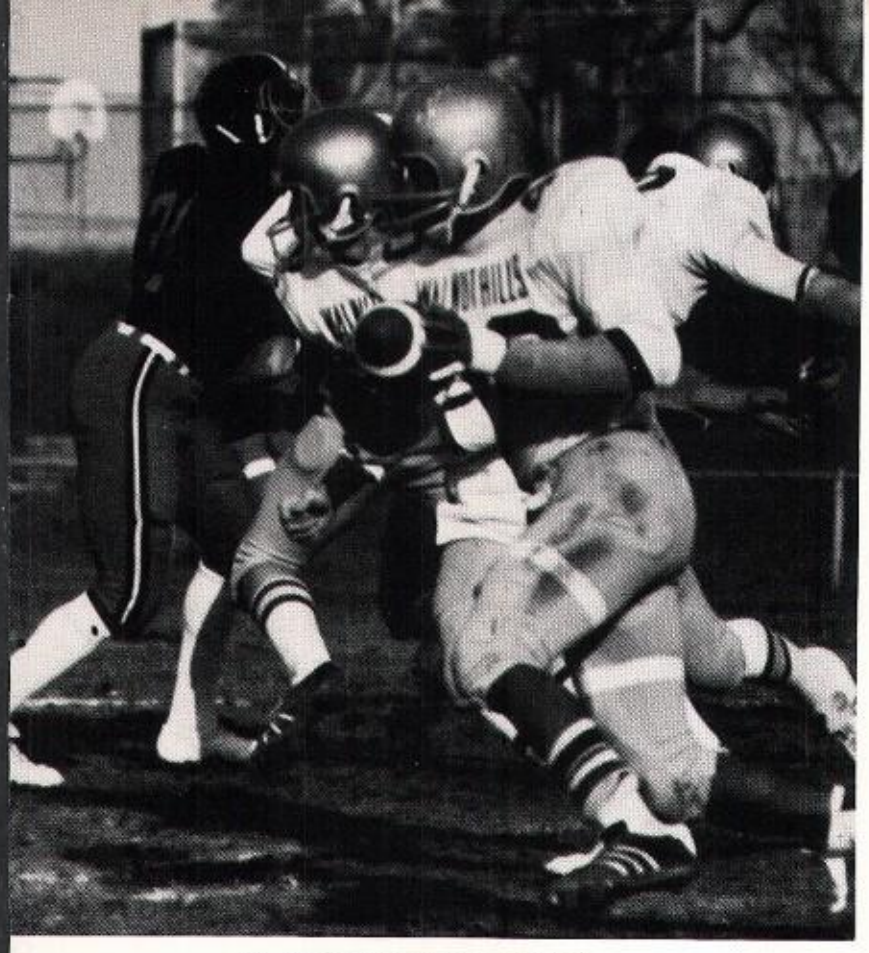
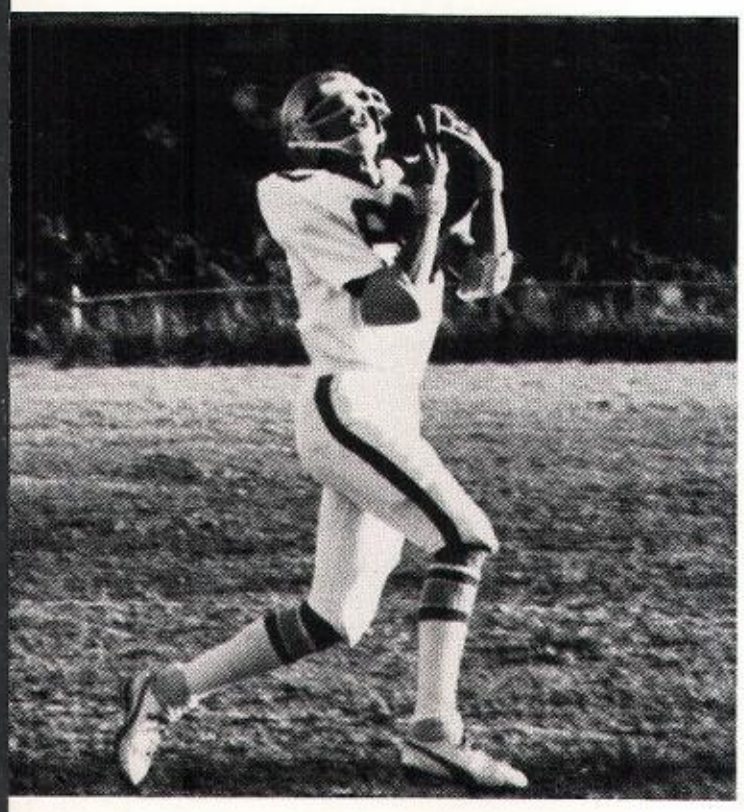
Football

Bookser unloads to deep threat Mike Sobul.

As his teammates look on, C. Rob Harris demonstrates classic open field running style.



C. Rob Harris sweeps end.



Lone Eagle evades oncoming Moeller.

The 1975 Football Season was disappointing in some ways, yet very encouraging in others. It was disappointing in won-lost record and in our inability to develop two platoons. It was very encouraging to see the development of some of our underclassmen, and to see the outstanding work of my very courageous assistant coaches, Mr. Hoggard, Mr. Allen, Mr. Mathews, Mr. Baily, Mr. Terry, Mr. Seitel, and Mr. Cordray.

We're going to miss that fine group of SENIORS who may have been short on size, but not in "Heart and Guts."

I sincerely feel we have the nucleus and the staff to put together a winner next year, if we can keep all our personnel. Our defensive stalwarts returning are "Hard-nosed" Greg Debord, "Blitzer" Ron Nahem, and "Double Duty" Mike Johnson. We also hope to keep "Tough Greg Hamilstone," "Twinkle Toes" Benny McPhearson, Darryl "Wolf Wolf" Harris, and "Mean" Mike Kurtz healthy for a full season. "Bad Back" David Graham and "Bow Legs" Mark Fishback will lead the defensive secondary with Randy Hodge.

Returning to the offensive platoon will be Karl "Big Foot" Bookser at Q.B., "Big" Mike Johnson at F.B., Scott "The Scoot" Montgomery, Larry "Atlas" Hassel at Center or Tackle, "Glue Fingers" Paul Henry and "Big Bear" Frazier Smith.

All of these boys have been to the "WELL OF HARD KNOCKS" and have drunk from the "CUP OF PAIN, SWEAT, TEARS, and HEARTBREAK," and have not backed down.

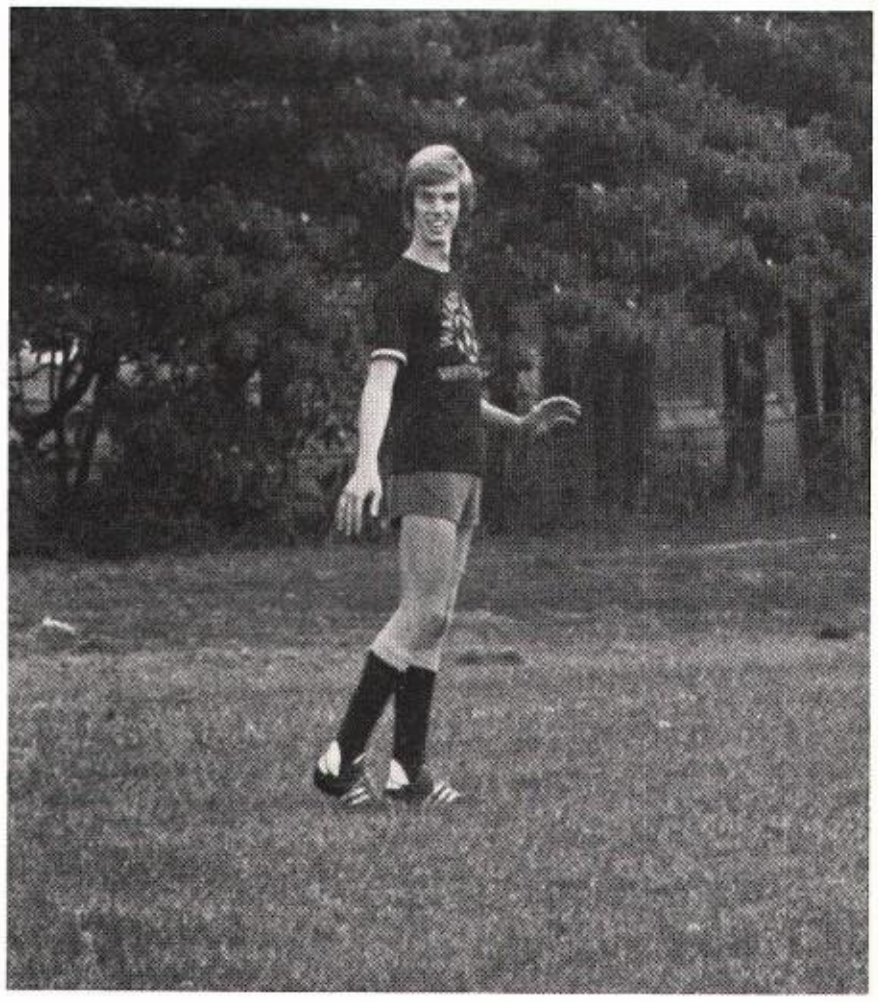
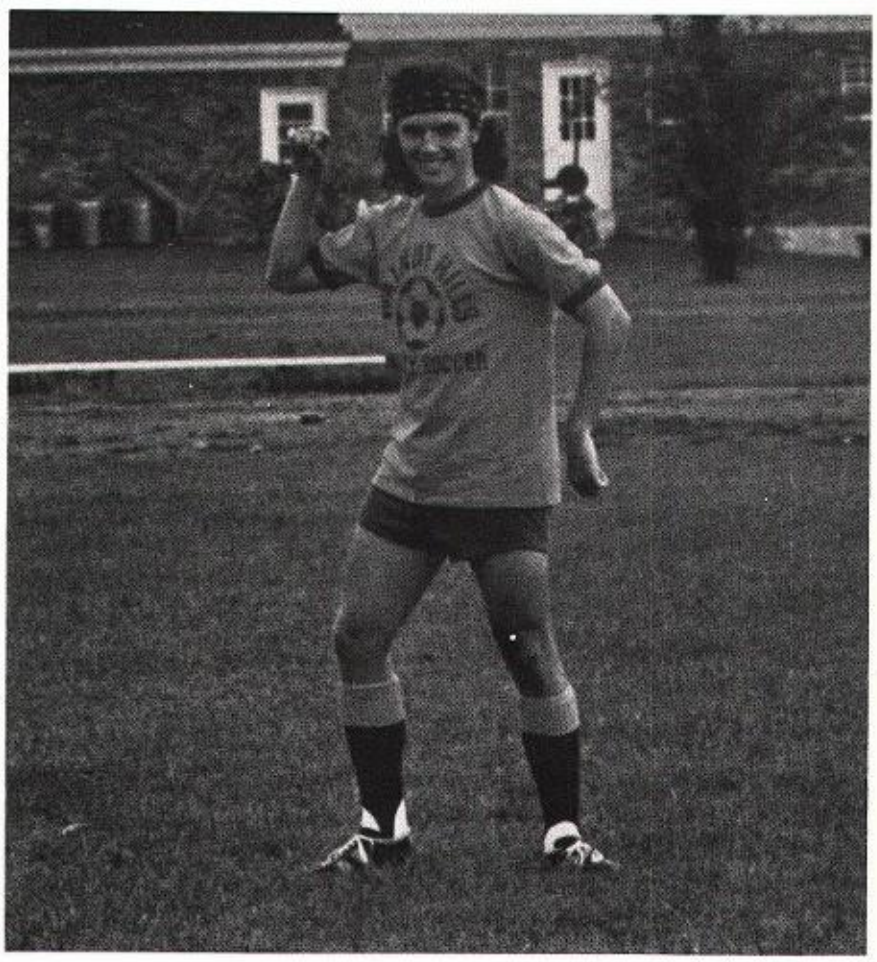
"I'm Captain because I wear No. 14 like Pete Rose."





Our 1975 Varsity Soccer Team was one of the finest in Ohio. We were Metro Soccer League Champs for the 2ND straight year. Eleven of our team were elected to "honor" positions, including two "All-Ohio". Since 2/3 of the 1974 team graduated, our rookies obviously did a great job.

We lose 11 more seniors this year, but the addition of reserve soccer this year, under Mr. Stewarts fine coaching, should fill the void.

My biggest regret was not having any of Walnuts fine black athletes come out for soccer this year! If the boys on basketball, baseball, track tiams, etc, would play soccer in the fall, they could stay in shape and do much more for the school. Why not letter in more than one sport?

I know that soccer is new to many, but one of our beginners, a senior, made All-Ohio this year. College scholarships are starting to open-up in soccer now, also.

Give us a chance and let me show you the game. If you've played before, great! We're shooting for Columbus in 1976! Summer tryouts start at 9 AM, Monday, August 16. Be there!

With a record of 13-1, I couldn't be more proud of the Girls tennis team.

In addition to the regular season matches, some of the girls played in the Hamilton Jaft Invitational where we finished first among eighteen teams.

We lose two valuable players next year, a loss which will be felt by all of the Girls.

Our goal next year is to get to the first Girls State tennis tournament.

It is, indeed, an honor to have worked with a group of girls who are not only fine athletes but well-poised, well-mannered young women.

Invitationals and first in the PHSL and Sectional tourney in the 175 lbs. weight class. Mike Johnson placed first in the PHSL at 138 lbs. Hope for the future was supplied by Freshman Derrick Strahorn who won the Troy Invitational and finished fourth in the PHSL at 98 lbs.

English

English at Walnut Hills covers a wide variety of subjects but encompasses three fundamental components: first, the understanding of the basic concepts of grammar, an invaluable skill in writing and understanding others' writings; secondly, the exposure of the student to all forms of literature, through which he learns to examine objectively and gain perception of the world in which he lives; lastly, creative writing which creates an outlet of ideas in an expressive form that allows a student to personally develop and learn self-evaluation.

Administrator

The Tragic Mental Collapse

Just last week, Walnut Hills experienced the untimely mental destruction of a long-revered administrator. Our beloved assistant, Milton McCracken, better known as "Uncle Milt", finally shrugged off the heavy burden of sanity and joined the ranks of the mentally afflicted.

It was not entirely a shock to the Walnut Hills staff and student body. Little innuendos of the inevitable collapse seeped out gradually from within the small, secluded office which we all once knew as "Milt's Place." The first sign of mental imbalance came early in the year. One student who wishes to remain anonymous told us, "I saw him (McCracken) picking dandelions and distributing them to apprehensive students." Mrs. Glass, his personal secretary, said that she once caught him counting his toes and singing 'Where Have All The Flowers Gone' at the same time. "I laughed to hide my discomfort," explained Mrs. Glass, but I cried myself to sleep that night as I pondered the grave implications that accompanied that awful scene. Then came the sporadic announcements over the P.A.: "This is the voice of the Lord," shouted the bedazed McCracken.

I talked to Mr. McCracken just day before his collapse. "I don't see wh people don't like me," he sobbed, " try to be nice to everyone." Lon Pause - "Get off, get off," h shrieked shooing away an imaginar insect of some kind. "Pressure, pres sure, too much pressure, pres . . . p . . . p . . .," his voice trailed of into an indeterminable muttering. As reached to gently pat his back, h jumped back wildly, yelling, "Don' touch me, don't touch me!"

That was the last time I saw hin while he had yet not crossed that thin erasable line that separates sanity fro insanity. "I was there when it happened," says Ira Cohen, yearbook editor. "I was outside his office in the main hall, and I heard this terrific yell that shook the doors of the adjoining offices. As I peered through the windowed door to see what was going on," continues Cohen, "the door burst violently open as a huge mass stormed by me, letting out a deafening shrill as it plummeted down the hall, knocking over students and extirpating water fountains from the surrounding walls." "He's finally popped his cork," cried Mrs. Glass, "the screw has finally come loose!"

Remembrancer photographers, realizing the once-in-a-lifetime happening they were witnessing, quickly responded to the bizarre situation. The following photographs, as humorous as they may seem, depict the tragic outbreak of a once normal human being who, under the tensions of administrative pressures, finally cracked up. He was a fine principal. He was a good man. But above all, he represented the stability and unflappability of our public school system.

We will all remember him as a father.

Authentic!

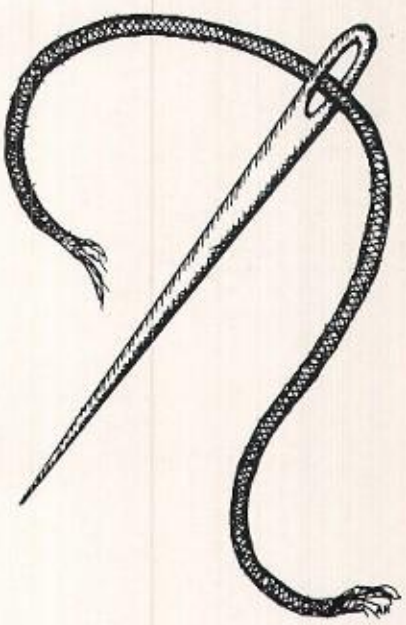
Girls! Have you ever dreamed of being a heroic seamstress, secretly fashioning the stars spangled banner of a noble young nation. Now you can make your own flag dresses, scarfs, and umbrellas with:

"The Betsy Ross Sewing Needle"

Now for the first time in 200 years you can have a sewing needle just like the one Betsy Ross, the mistress of our country, used when she fashioned "Old Glory." This authentic replica, designed and fashioned with time-honored Japanese craftsmanship meets exact American specifications. This is not a fake, not a gimmick, not a stupid piece of junk, but a splendid piece of art. Yes, you could use it, but wouldn't you like to hang it on your mantle piece in our quaint 23" × 47" walnut grained frame? Send $17.76 for your bit of Early Americana today. Isn't your heritage worth it?

American!!!

Original!!



"I'm glad it's over."

"I suppose I should ask you why."

"Because now I finally get a little bit of choice. Don't you agree?"

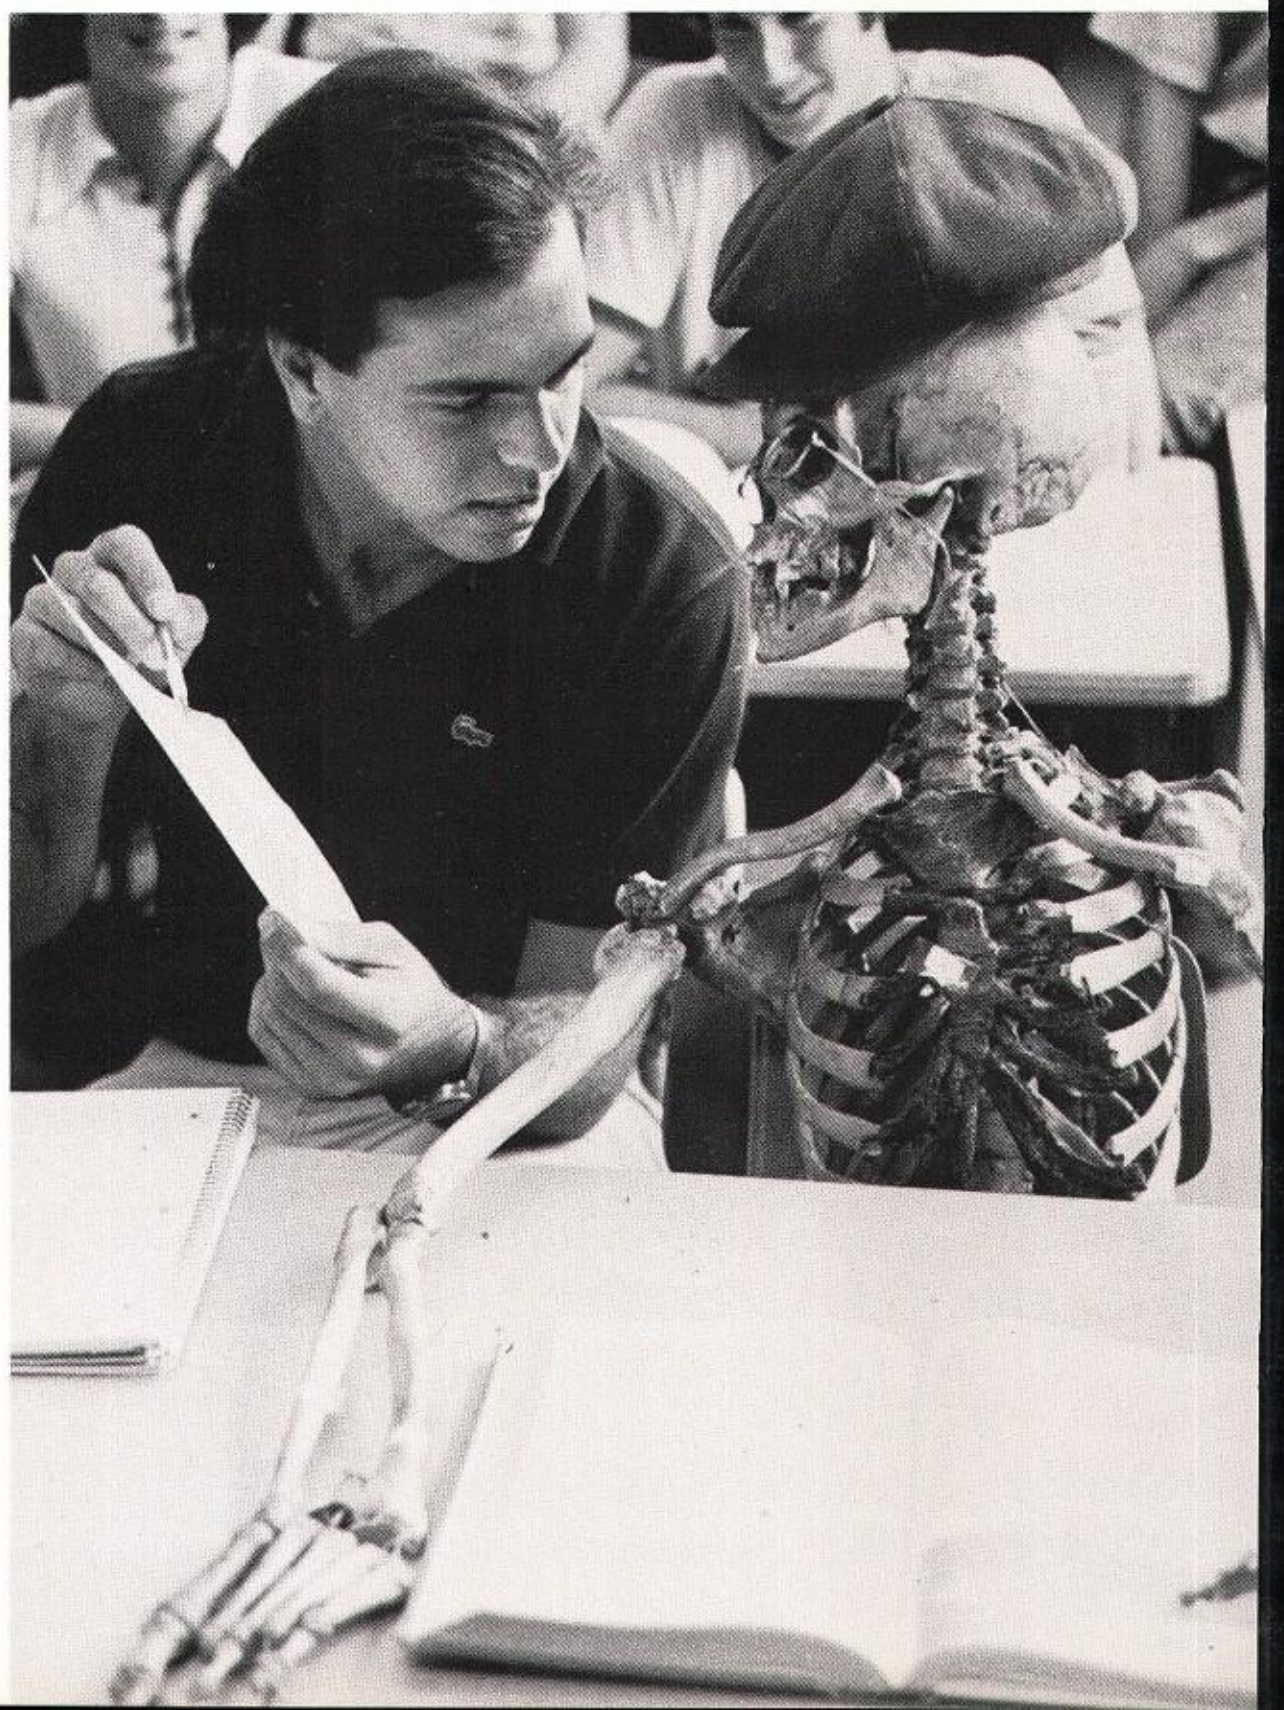
"I agree but you talk as though you've been in prison for the past six years!"

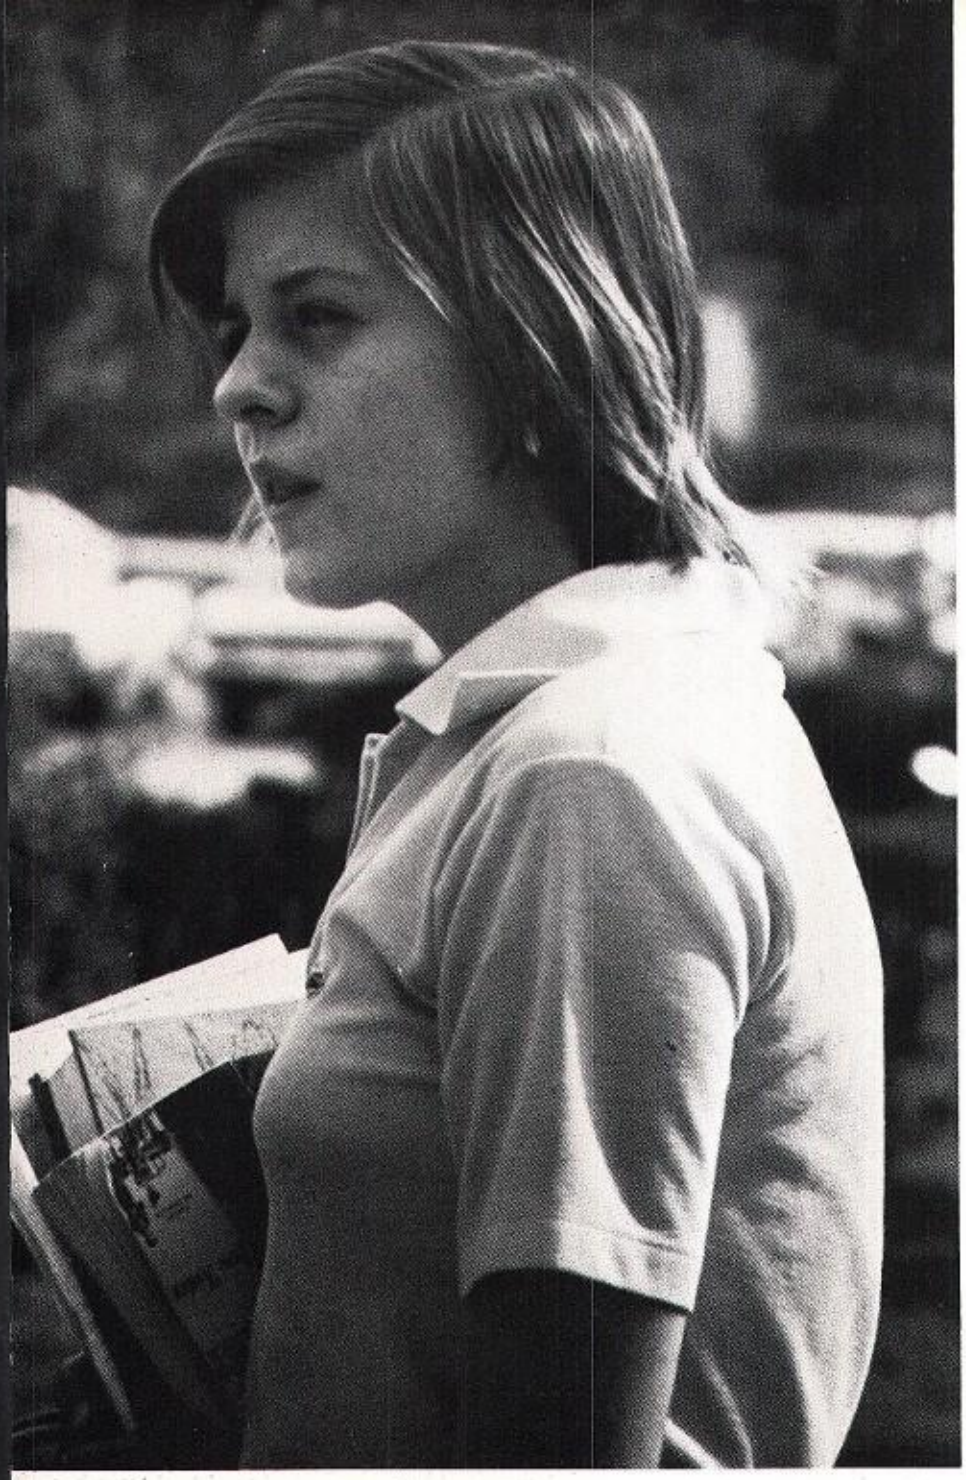
"I feel like it. Every step I've taken so far has been directed, and now I'm ready to make some decisions for myself."

"You don't think you've benefited from this guidance? Isn't that its purpose?"

"Then I assume that you don't regret spending the greater part of the last six years of your life in school."

"Do I have a choice? My only alternative is . . ."





". . . to feel that it's been a waste of time."

"So that's a good enough reason for you?"

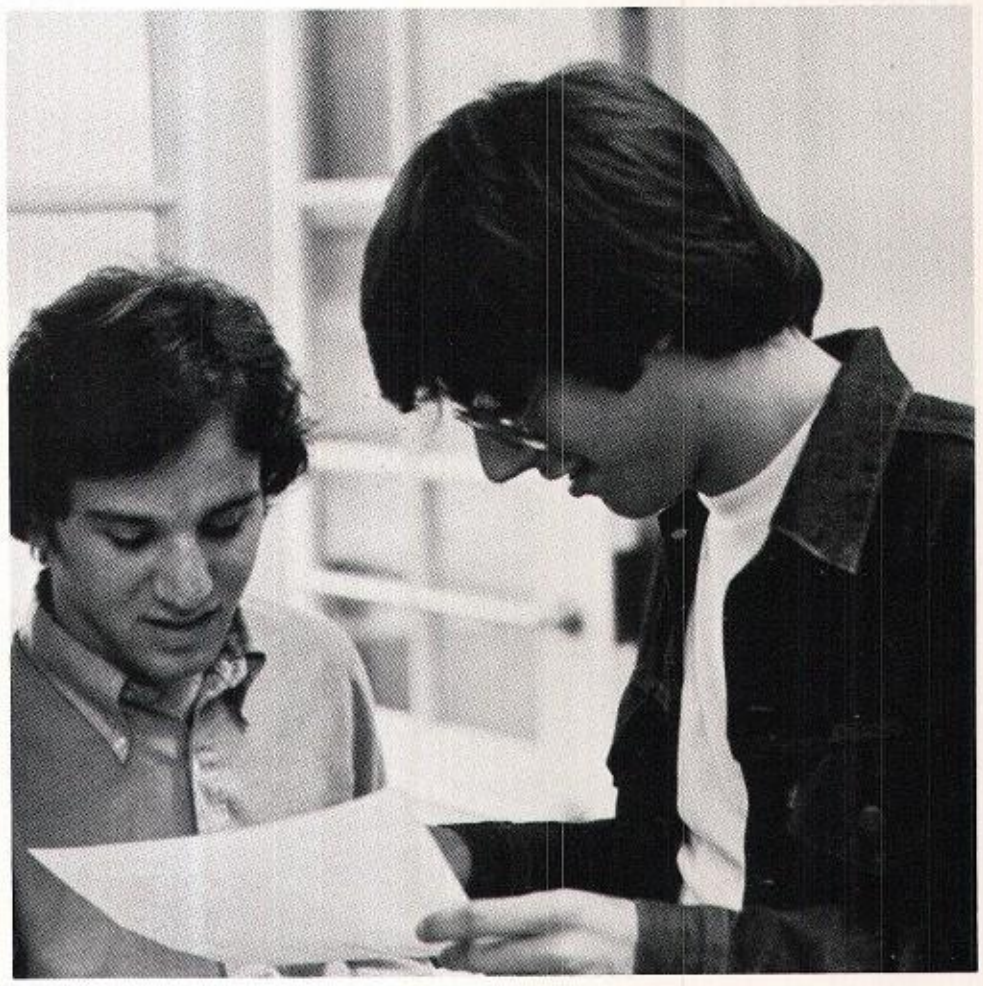
"That's not the only reason, though. It's been worthwhile because it hasn't been just an empty progression from one grade to the next."

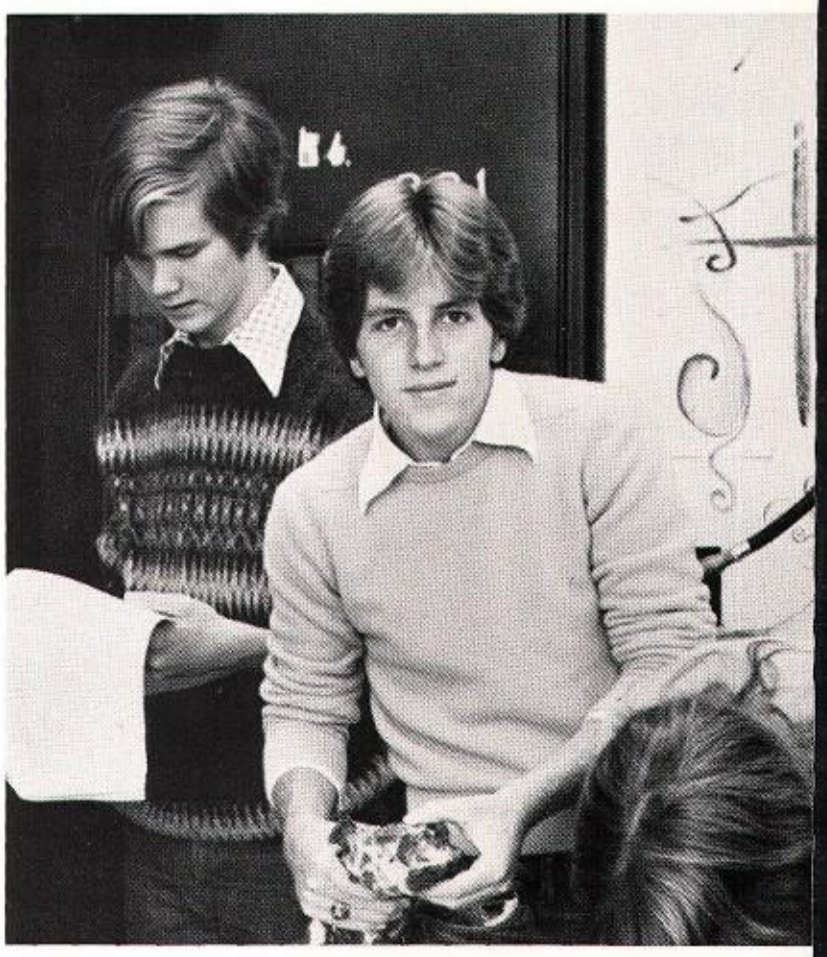
"Meaning . . ."

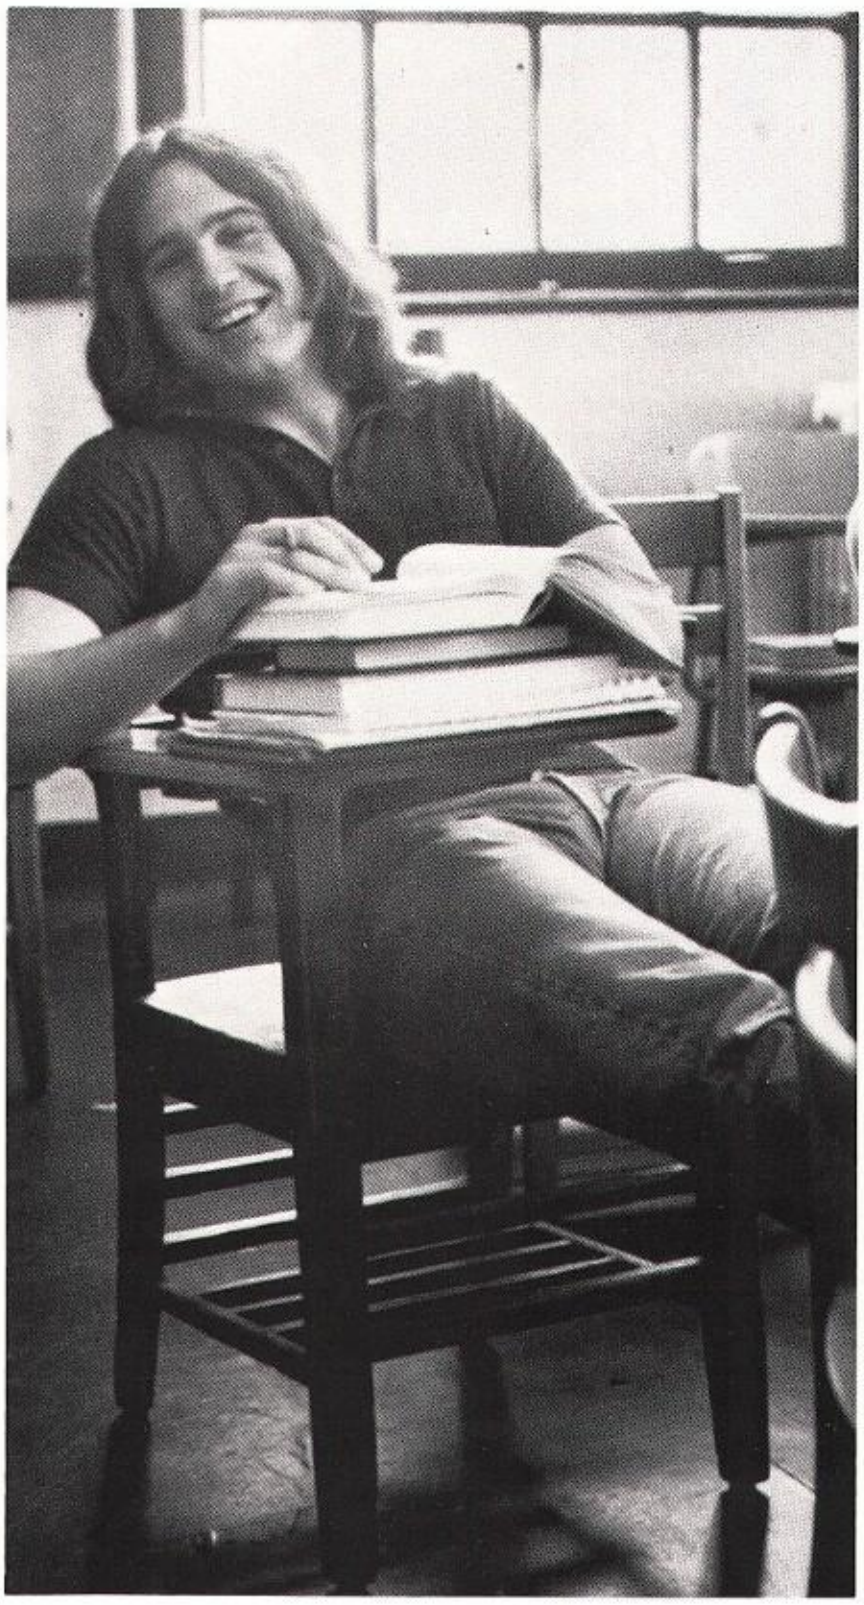
"Meaning simply that there has been a substance to these years. I'm not about to discount the fact that I have learned."

"Okay, so you've learned. But what? Something that you can hold in your hand, that won't slip through your fingers once you've left?"

"You don't understand. It's not a question of how much information we retain, but that through the process of learning, we in turn sharpen our sensitivities, and broaden our scope. It's not WHAT we have learned, but THAT we have learned."







We the undersigned, graduating class of 1976 of Walnut Hills High School, being of sound mind and disposing memory and being free from any restraint, jug or durance vile, do hereby make public and declare the following to be our last will and testament:

To our beloved lunchroom, we bequeath a set of decorative trays, plastic shrubbery, 300 rat traps, and files in pies for the big breakout.

To our most revered office, we bequeath 2,800 used D-day cards.

To our most cherished vice-principal, we bequeath 10,000 old cigarette butts.

To our most respected detention room, we bequeath whips, a rack, thumbscrews and one WH branding iron.

To our most enlightening teachers, we leave their sanity.

To own ever-faithful library, we leave assorted muzzles and gags, and a ten year subscription to an educational periodical, i.e. Playboy, Penthouse and Viva.

To the student body, we leave a bulldozer for passing classes and 10,000 assorted Cliff Notes.

To our dear juniors, we leave 400 McDonald's certificates, a senior bar and grill and lounge featuring ping-pong and billiard tables, pin ball machines, color TV, shag carpeting, and air-conditioning; and all the rights and privileges that we had.

To the halls, we leave five more walls and doorways.

To the football field, we leave a new team.

To the teachers' lounge, we leave a piano bar and scantily-dressed waitresses.

To the front steps, we leave a sixty gallon ashtray.

Last but not least, to the boys' bathrooms, we leave a custom-made crap table.

In witness thereof, the graduating class of 1976 of Walnut Hills High School has herein to set its hand and seal by Desha Frankel, our president and by Wyetta Walker, our secretary who are duly empowered to act herein and each of whom has signed in the presence of the other.

Wyetta Walker

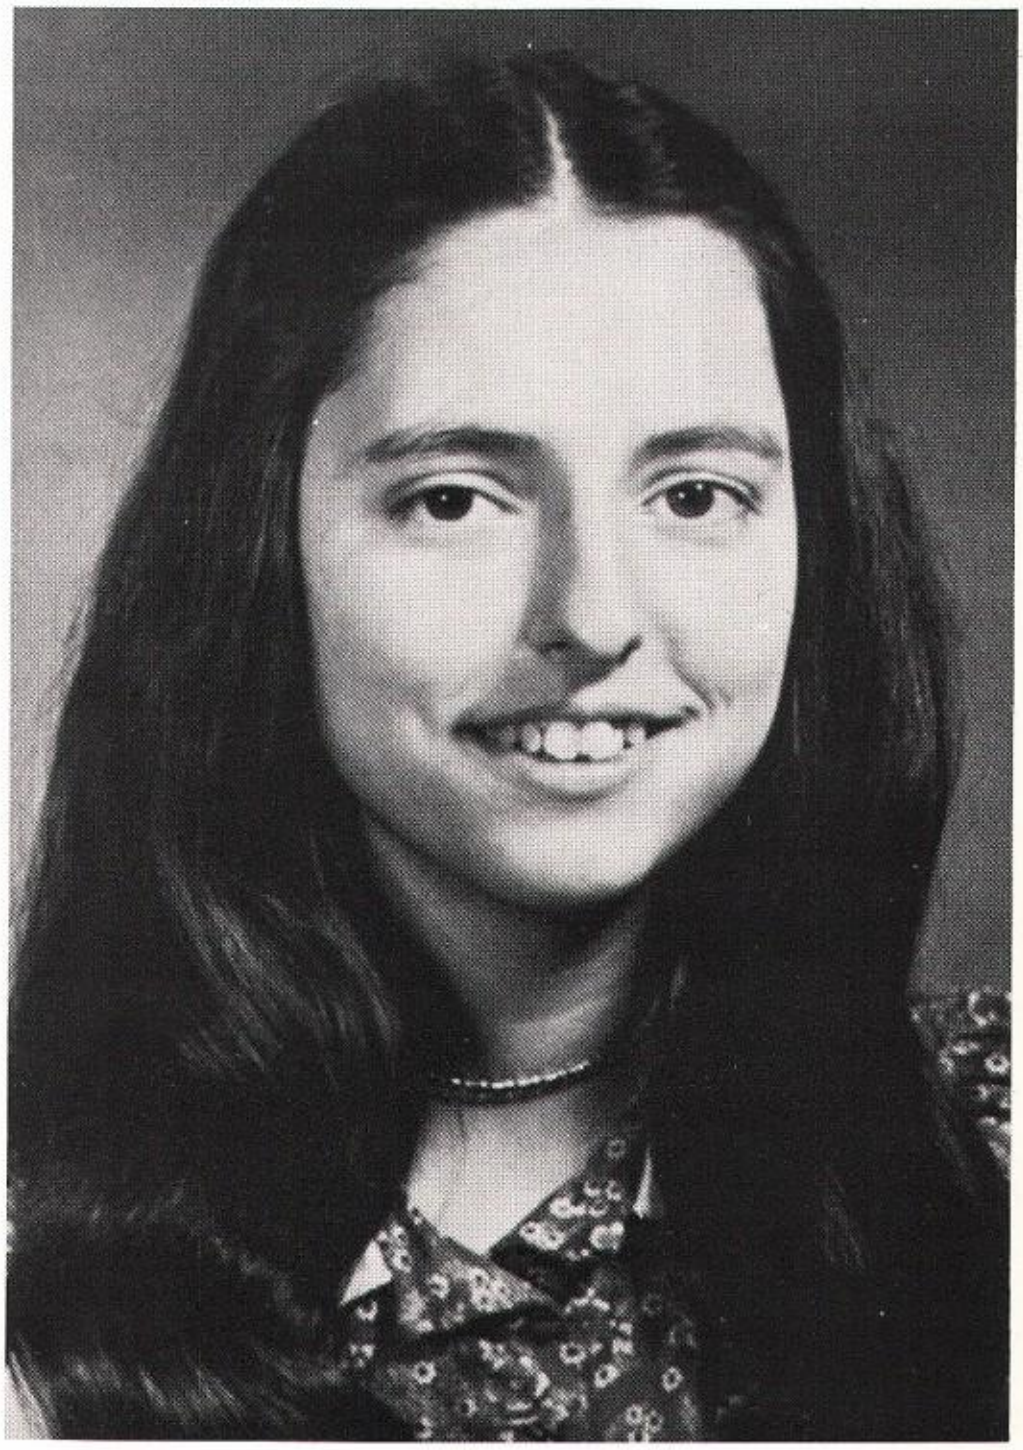
LINDA HARMON



What though the radiance once so bright,

Be now taken from my sight

Though nothing can bring back the hour,

Of splendor in the grass, glory in the flower

We shall grieve not, rather find

Strength in what remains behind.

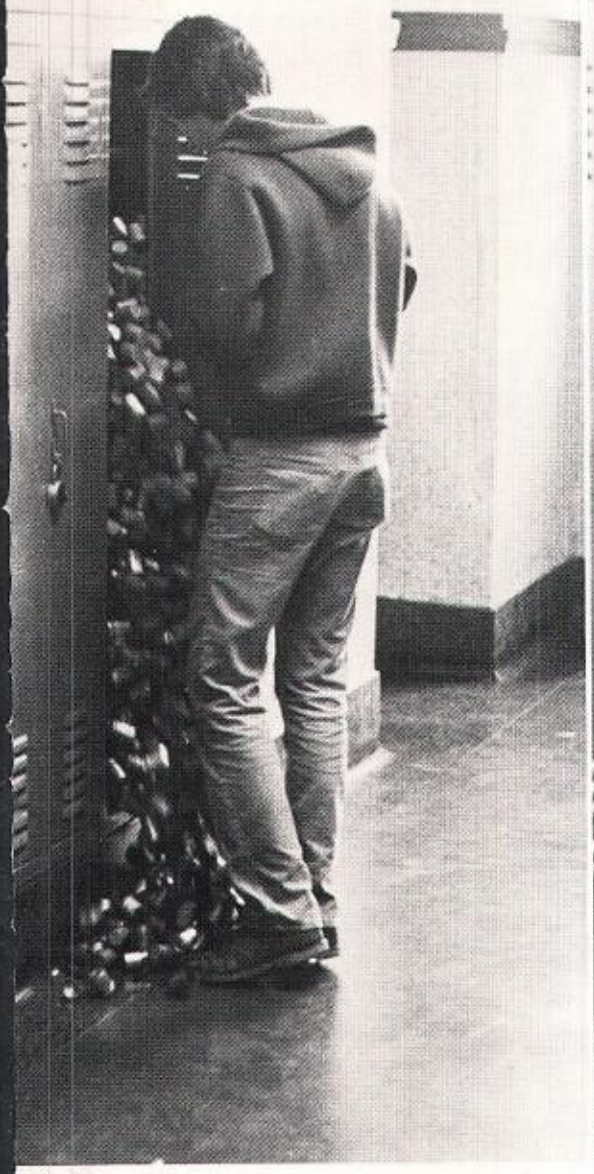
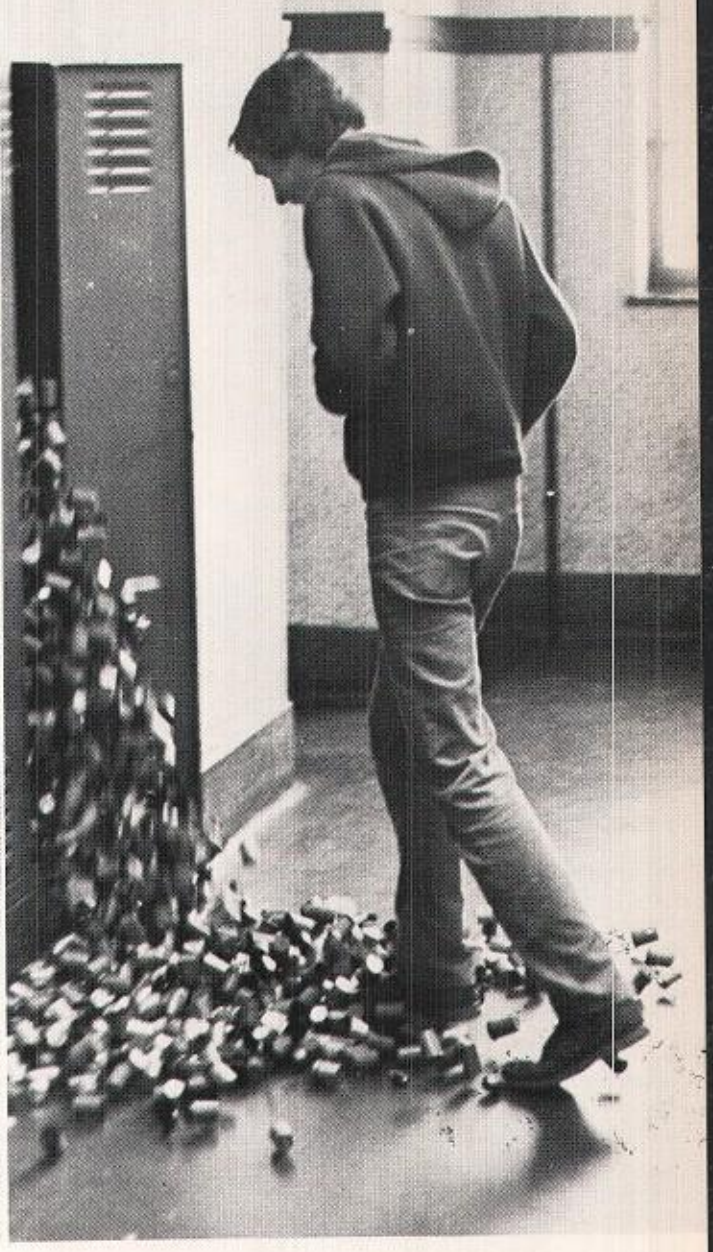
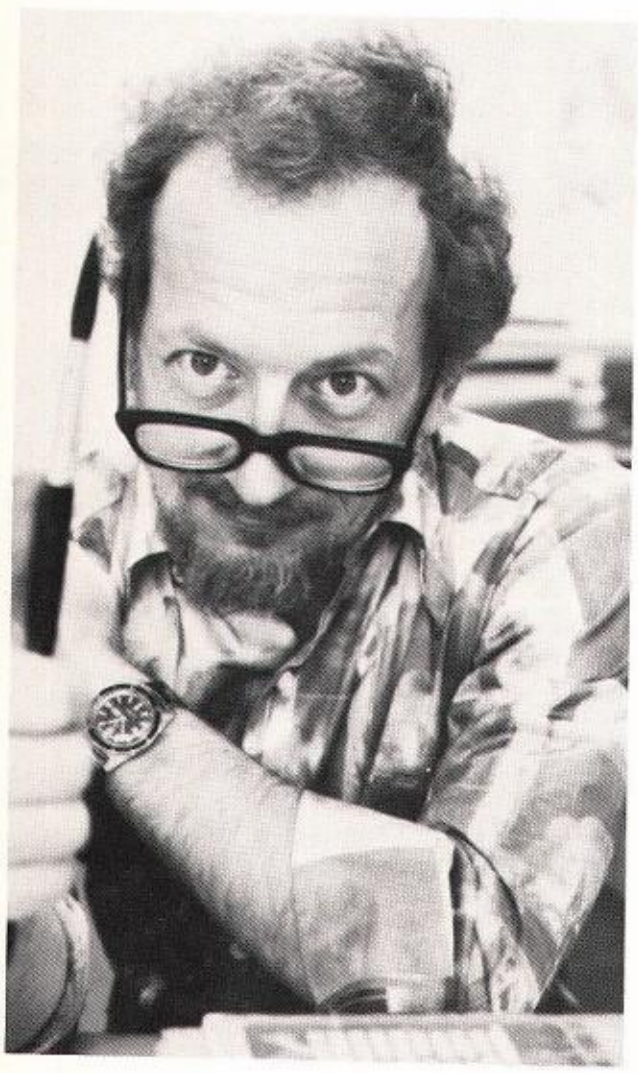
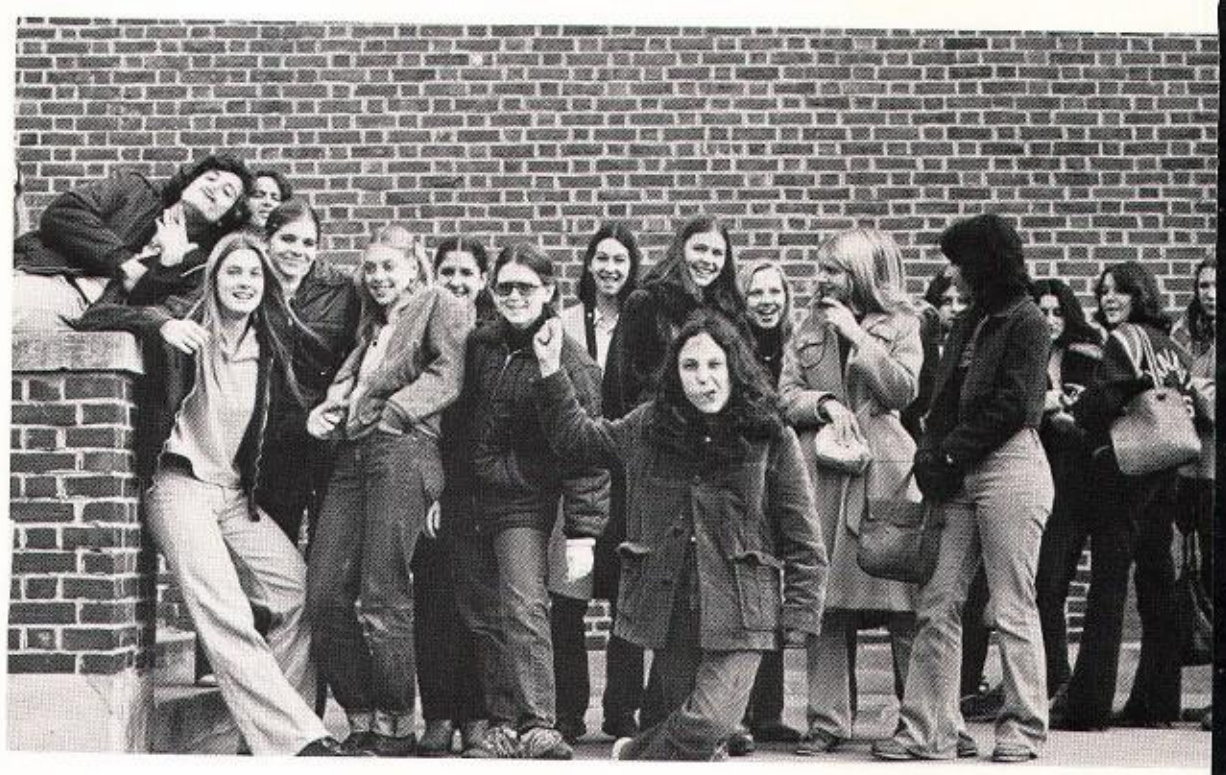
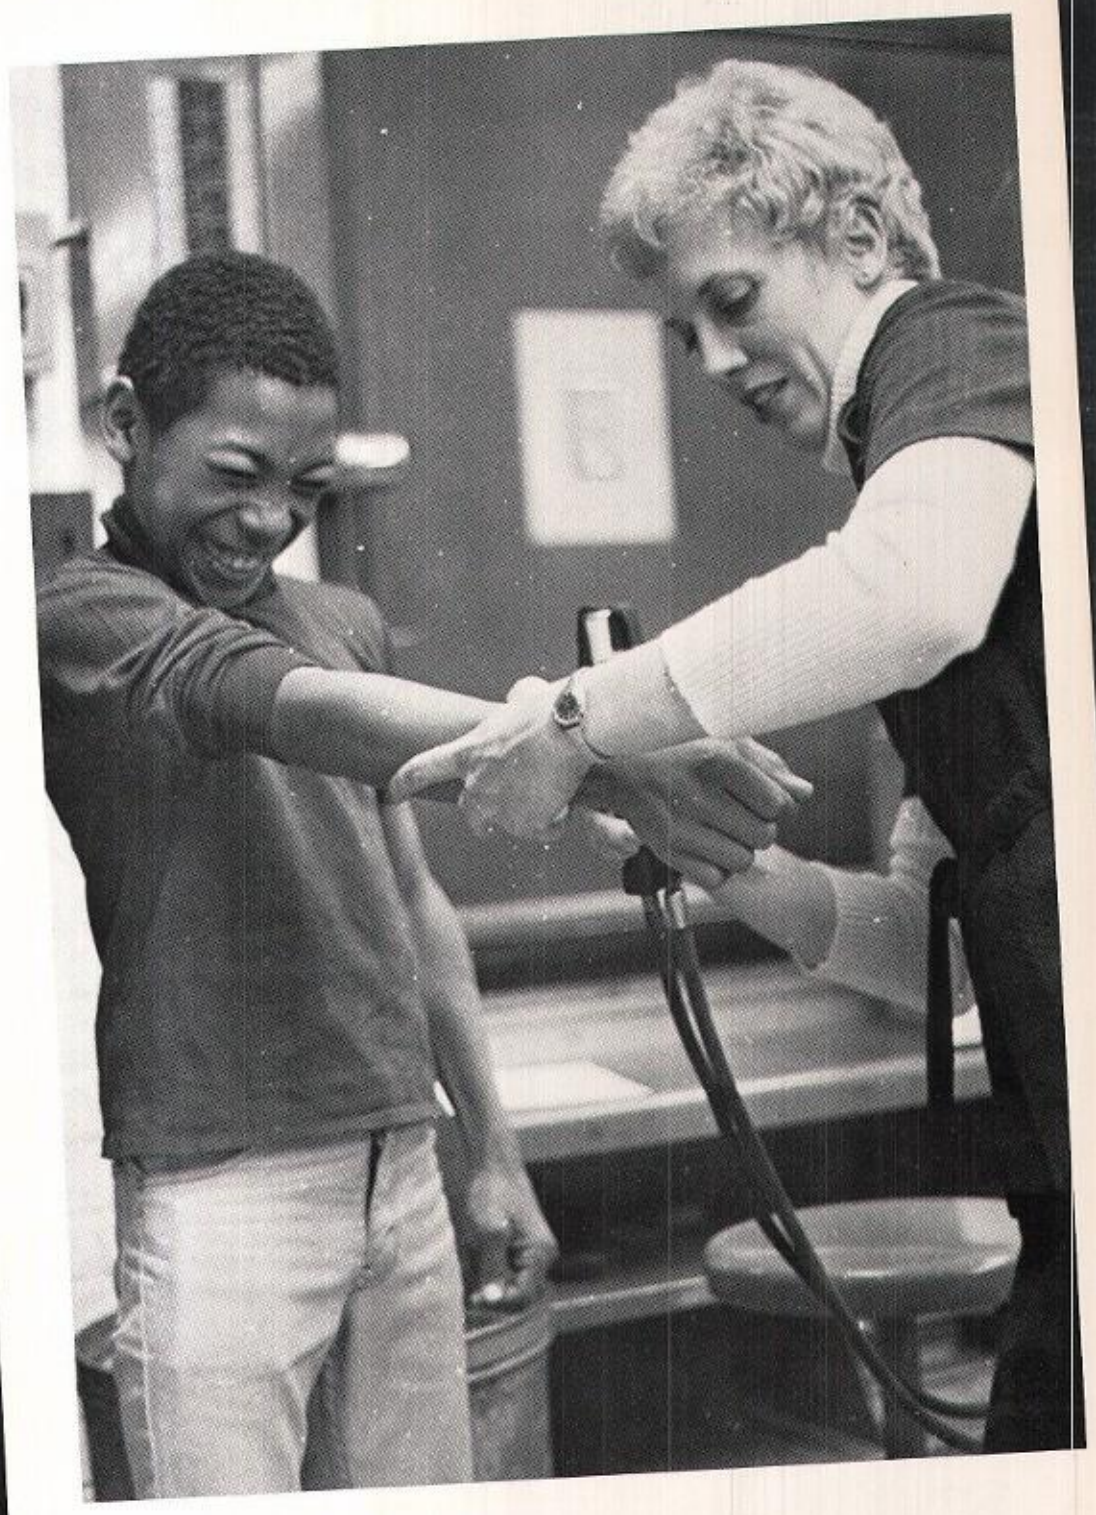
To the fag on the bus. Me





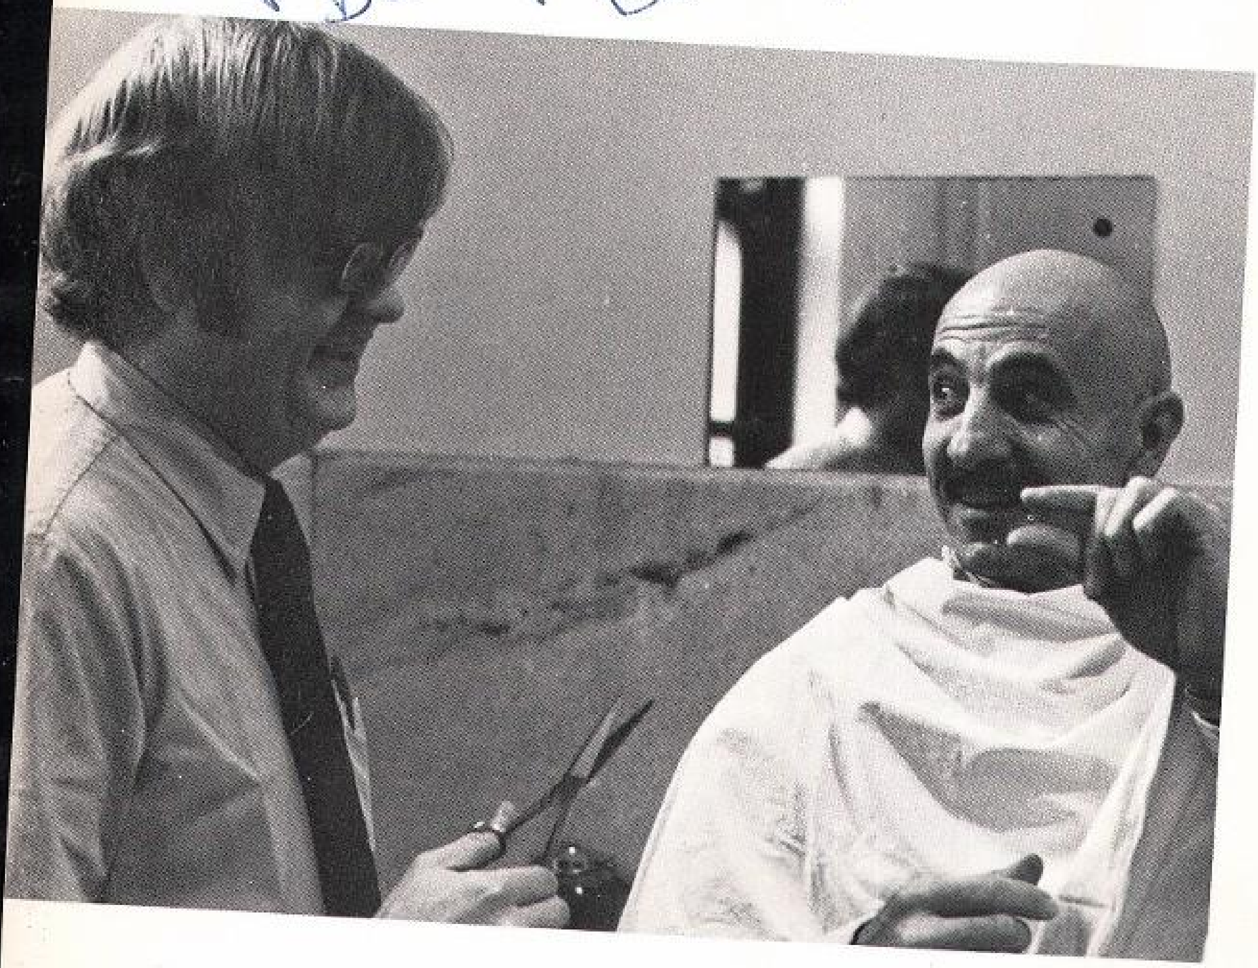


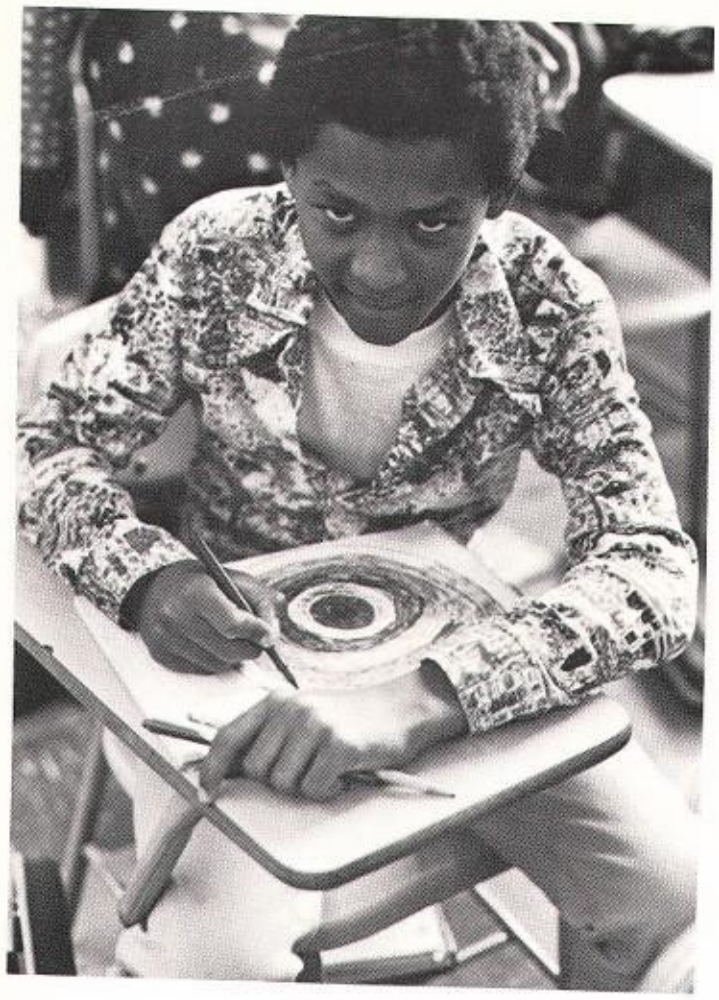


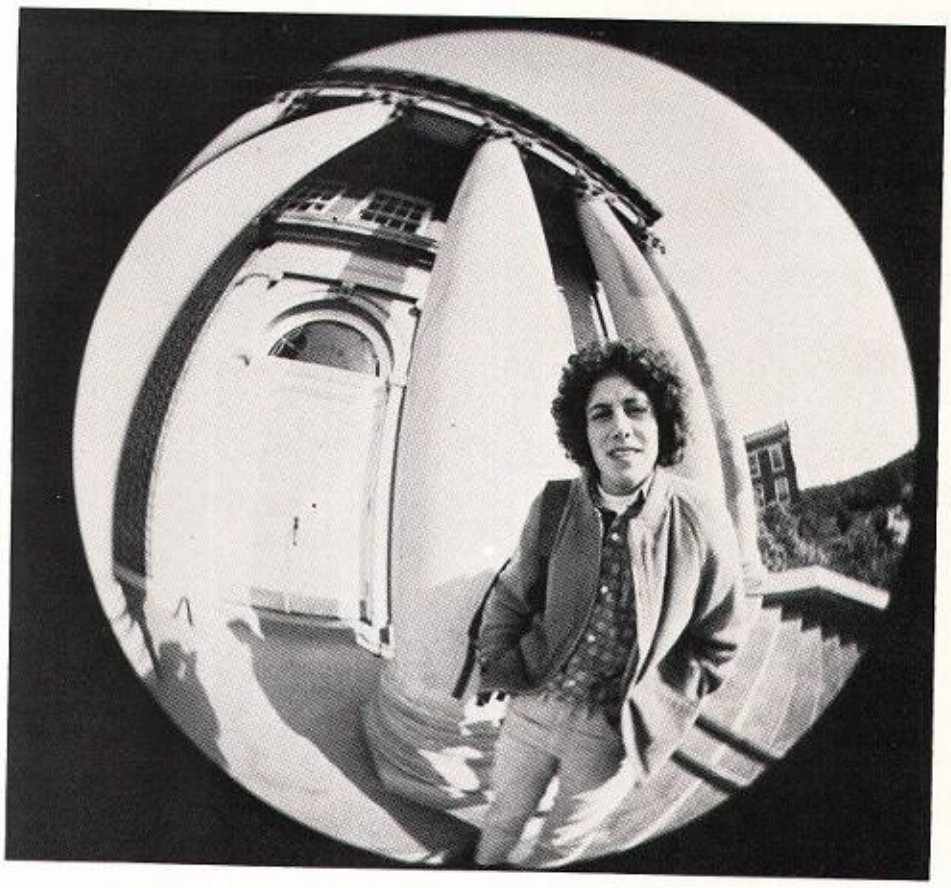


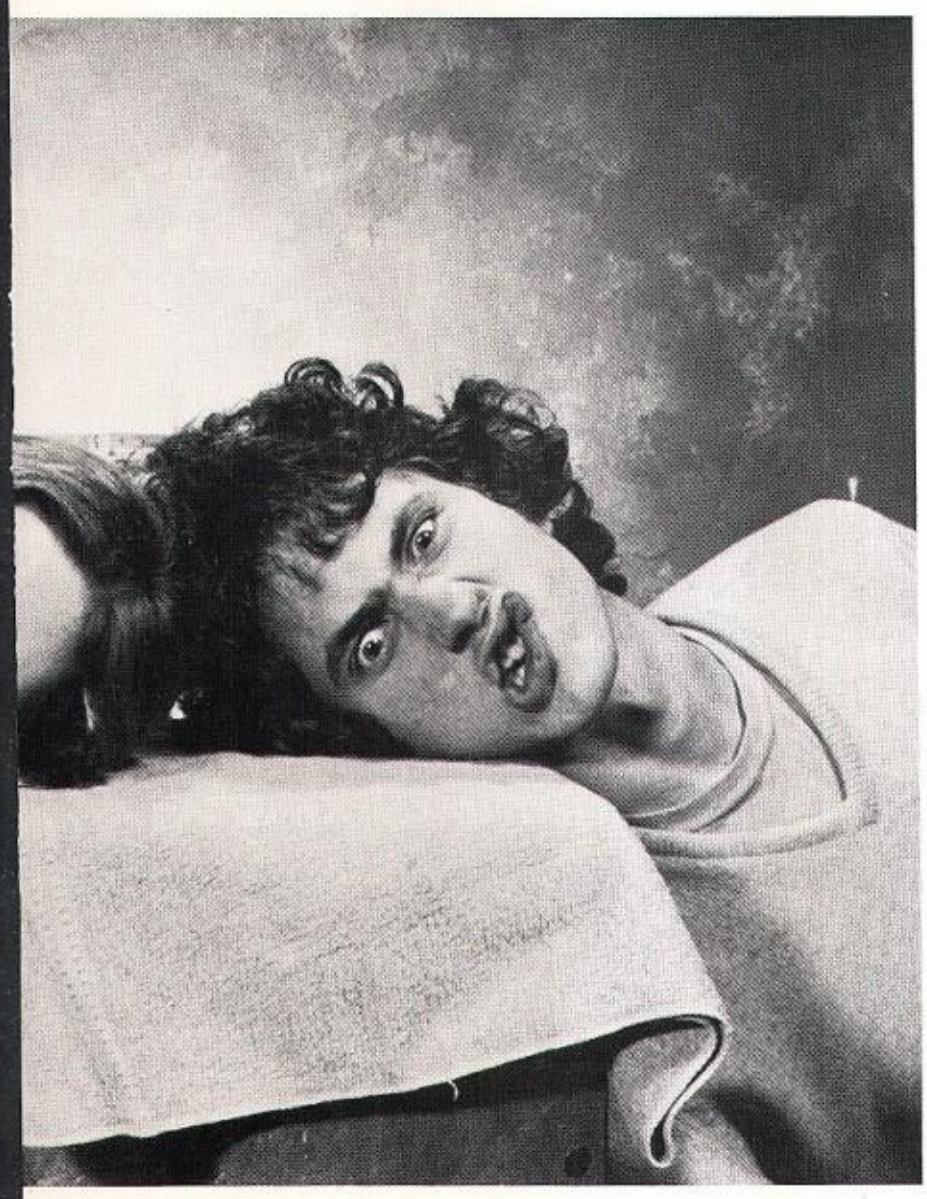
Alan,
I had fun in latin. I know we always fought but I was only kidding and I hope you were. I'll miss ya next year.
Love ya,
Patti
P.S. I'll come & visit ya next year.

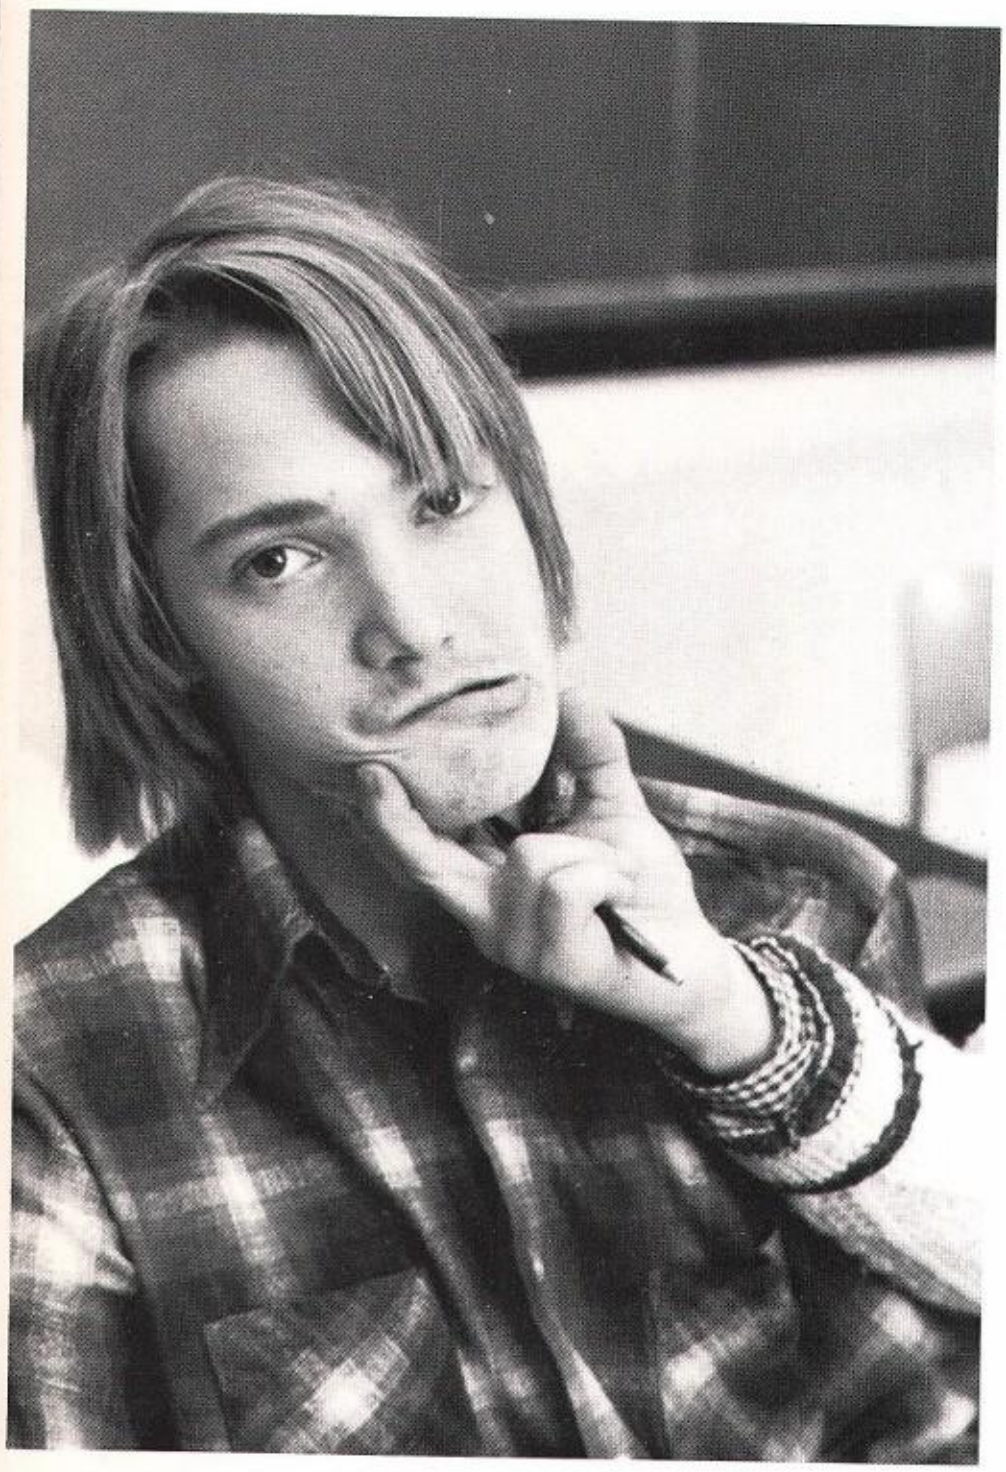
Alan,
Well, one more year over with. To tell ya the truth, I'm sorta sad. I mean my classes were okay and the people I met & the people I already knew got better. Everything was fantastic, at school that is. But any way! Keep in touch this summer,
Love,
Caroline

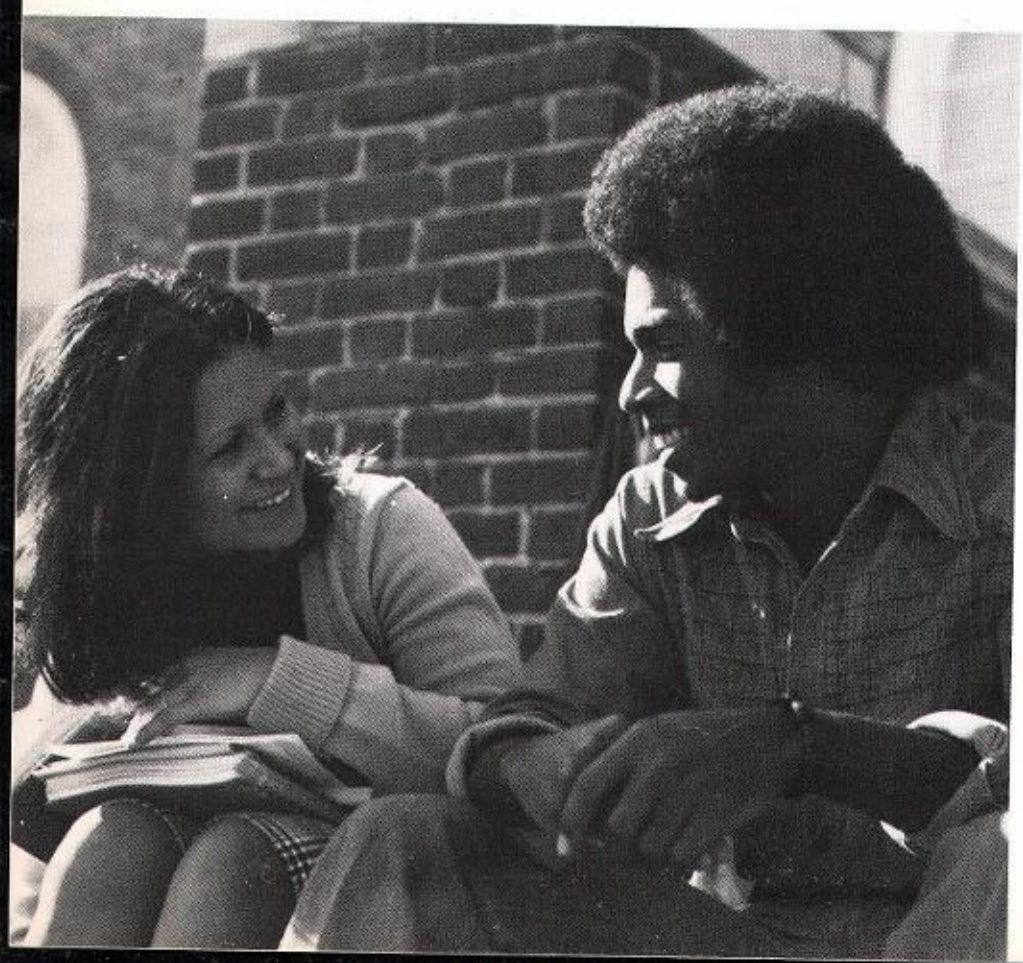


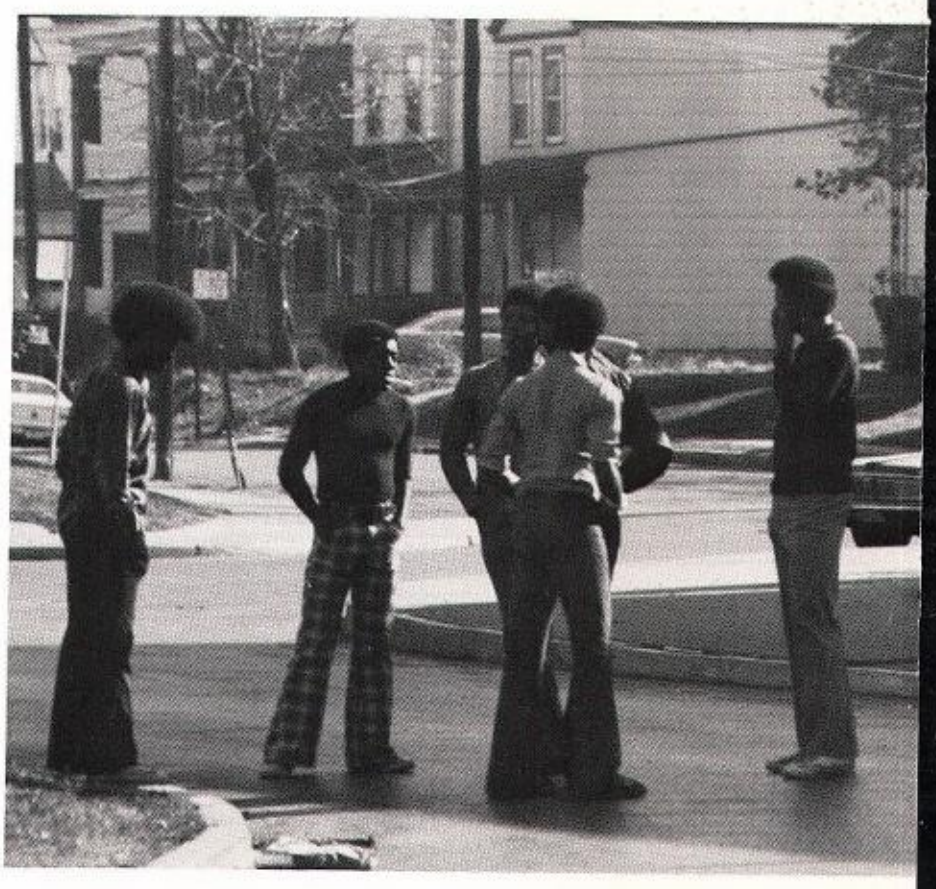












Alan,

Alan,
It's been a real experience from Study Hall to Drama. Remember how you use to get me and Diane sick. Well don't forget me. See you later.

To Alan,
We've had a lot of fights that start in Bio. + continue into Lat. but even tho'
they usually ended with both of us or one of us angry
the always started out joking so that must mean we are really good friends. We are. I'll be talking to you over the summer but only if you call me (321-2595). I will see ya next year when I visit. Love
Amelia
